Sheriff's service criticized

Mayor budgets reduction for road protection

By JIM CARRAVALLAH
Of The Roman Staff

Officials of the Wayne County Sheriff's Road Patrol are dumbfounded over a report from Romulus that James C. Stewart is upset with the service the patrol provides his community.

Inspector Richard Novak, director of the road patrol in Romulus, said Monday he has "heard nothing" of a complaint Stewart gave to The Romulus Roman that he was going to budget less money in the city's proposed 1976-77 budget for sheriff's services because the service was inferior.

Stewart said he budgeted a reduction, because, "I don't think the community is getting the kind of police protection it should expect for the kind of money it's paying."

Stewart's proposed budget, which has not received council approval yet, shows a reduction from $962,000 to $829,000 for sheriff's patrol services.

Stewart said the $133,000 reduction better reflects the kind of service he believes the community is receiving.

Stewart made the statement in a private interview with a reporter from The Romulus Roman April 26. However the story was not used until it could be confirmed with road patrol officers.

Insp Novak said, "It's news to me" when informed of Stewart's complaints about inadequate service in a telephone interview May 3.

'...the complaints sound like a kind of problem all departments face'

— Inspector Richard Novak

"I just saw the mayor at the UAW Local 157 hall in Romulus Friday (April 30), and the mayor said he was happy with the service and said I should inform the men," Novak said. "I was just writing the letter to inform the men that he's happy with the service when the newspaper called."

Stewart had complained to The Roman that the response of officers to trouble calls was slow and that the cars assigned to portions of the community are not always at their duty station when needed.

"I monitor all the calls sent to the sheriff, and I get the feeling that the response time to calls is slow," Stewart said during his interview with The Roman. "I've got no documentation of the time they take to answer calls, but it seems to be slow."

"In addition, the sheriff is supposed to be patrolling in districts throughout the community, and it seems like far too often cars are out of their districts when they're needed."

Under the provisions of the present sheriff's road patrol contract, four "units" are assigned to Romulus on a 24-hour a day, seven-day-a-week patrol schedule.

Each of the "units" — one car with a driver on the day shift and two officers on afternoon and midnight shifts — are assigned one of four patrol districts in Romulus.

However, according to Novak, if a car is needed in another district where there is trouble, that car will be ordered to leave its district.

"I haven't discussed the problems with the mayor," Novak said Monday, "however the complaints sound like a kind of problem all departments face."

"Depending on the type of call a car receives, the response may be slower. And further, depending on how many cars, a patrol unit may be moved from one district to another to better serve the community."

"Every police department would enjoy having a car at the doorstep of a person phoning a complaint by the time that person hangs up."

"But the manpower that would require would be too expensive for most taxpayers."

Insp. Novak said he would contact Stewart to learn more about the mayor's complaints, and to see if some of them could be ironed out.

Romulus, contract with the Wayne County Sheriff's Road Patrol is up for renewal this August after the initial five-year pact negotiated by the city with the county expires.

To date, Romulus is the only community in Wayne County operating under a negotiated police protection arrangement with the sheriff's department. In the past, sheriff's officials had hoped to make the community a "showcase" in an effort to "sell" the idea to other Wayne County communities.

Ironically, inquiries about the Stewart complaint were received by the sheriff's department on the same day a motion approved by the Romulus City Council was communicated to the same department.

The motion on April 27 requested a meeting with the sheriff to discuss continuing the present road patrol contract.

The motion did not detail any of the mayor's complaints about the service.

And one booth goes here

Mrs. Duke Zavitz (right) shows Mrs. Beverly McAnally one of the spaces which may be available for a sales booth at this year's Romulus Community Mart. Mrs. Zavitz and Mrs. McAnally are co-chairpersons of the annual event which will be shifting from its normal location at the Romulus

City Hall to the Romulus Progressive Club near Huron River Drive and Ozga Roads across from Kennedy Park in Romulus. The Mart is expected to begin its annual summer run later this month. — Romulus Roman photo.

'Hoping it will be as good'

Community Mart changes location; support sought

Romulus' longest-standing summer activity has switched locations.

The Romulus Community Mart, held for the past two years at the Romulus Civic Center, will be switched to a location near Five-Points in the city.

According to Community Mart organizer, Beverly McAnally, the Romulus Progressive Club hall near the intersection of Huron River Drive, Ozga, Grant and Goddard Roads will be the new site of the weekly Saturday flurry of community buying and selling.

"The Progressive Club was most generous in offering us an area where the citizens of Romulus can not only gather to sell their handmade and homegrown goods, but also to mingle with their neighbors," Mrs. McAnally said. "We're hoping the Mart will be as good, if not better than it has been."

Planned for the community mart this year, according to Mrs. McAnally, is the sale of goods grown on farms and gardens throughout the community, a handicraft sales area and a kind of flea market. In addition, Mrs. McAnally said the Community Mart organizers are hoping to attract a number of special events during the event's summer-long run. Featured as part of the Mart last year were activities sponsored by various civic clubs, performances by school children and local entertainers, and some outside demonstrations.

Mrs. McAnally is hoping that this year's Community Mart will center on the Bicentennial theme.

Last year, a special weekend was set aside for visitors to wear types of clothing dating back to America's early history. A similar event could be planned this year.

Used as "seed money" for the Mart this year is a $530 allotment from the Romulus City Government that was left in the city's 1975-76 budget. A similar allotment has been left out of the city's latest budget proposal.

"We're not a money-making event, so we're hoping that the residents will continue to support us by renting space to sell goods," Mrs. McAnally said.

"The rental spaces will bring in revenue to gear up for another Community Mart next year."

"But our main worry is this year," she added. "We're hoping the citizens continue to support us."

Information on the Community Mart can be obtained by calling Mrs. McAnally at 728-1513.

Proposed new jail

John Barr (center) chairman of The Wayne County Board of Commissioners, points out some of the architectural details of the new proposed downtown Detroit Wayne County Jail to Commissioners Edgar Harris (left), who represents Romulus, and Thomas Presnell, who represents Romulus. The proposal to construct the jail in Downtown Detroit represents a "victory" of sorts for commissioners like Harris and Presnell who fought the construction of an out-county jail in their communities if such construction did not include out-county circuit court facilities. Harris, Presnell and Barr have joined with the other 24 commissioners to lobby for a half-mill tax levy which will pay for the construction of the jail.

Autopsy awaited on whether crash responsible for death

One man is dead and two other persons are in critical condition following a collision between an ambulance and a car driven by a Romulus teenager at 11:30 a.m. Sunday.

An autopsy has been scheduled to determine whether a Taylor man died of an apparent self-inflicted gunshot wound or as a result of the collision. Involved in the crash was an ambulance from the Taylor Ambulance Co. and a vehicle driven by 16-year-old Robert Jesko of 8551 Hudson St., Romulus.

According to reports by the Wayne County Sheriff's Road Patrol, the ambulance, driven by Dennis Burger, struck the car driven by Jesko as the ambulance attempted to pass through a red signal on Northbound Middlebelt Road at Beverly Road in Romulus.

Lt. Gene Derengowski of the Sheriff's Road Patrol said the car, headed west on Beverly, had a green light and was proceeding through the intersection, with the driver apparently unaware of the approaching ambulance.

Jesko, a student at Romulus High School, and a frienda Kuhn, 15, of 6325 Cordell St., Romulus, were taken to Wayne County General Hospital in critical condition.

The hospital reported yesterday that the injured victims still were listed in critical condition in the hospital's intensive care unit.

Also involved in the accident was an attendant in the ambulance, David Marshall, and three passengers of an ice cream truck waiting for a red light to change while headed southbound on Middlebelt.

However, none of the three in the ice cream truck, Gary Allen Winstead, 21, of Inkster; Terry Lee Winstead, 18, the driver, or Floyd LaLonde, 16, of 29166 Beverly Rd., Romulus, suffered serious injuries.

Police are awaiting the results of an autopsy on the Taylor man to determine whether he died of the apparent self-inflicted gunshot wounds or injuries from the accident.

No violation notices have been issued in the incident.

"These are tricky situations," Derengowski said. "It's difficult for an ambulance or other emergency vehicle to notify other drivers on the road of its approach to an intersection when those drivers have their windows rolled up and radios playing, and yet, vehicles are required to yield the right-of-way to an emergency vehicle."

"It's up to the driver of an emergency vehicle to proceed with extreme caution through red lights," he said.

Club fights 50 percent worth idea

By JIM CARRAVALLAH
Of The Enterprise-
Roman Staff

A Romulus political club has taken a stand against a state law proposal which could deny communities like Romulus 50 percent of the "worth" of all new development.

Gene Wilson, president of the Romulus Democratic Club, said the organization has taken a stand against a proposal known as the "tax base sharing act" and will send copies of a resolution to legislators in a position to defeat the proposal.

Under the plan proposed to the Michigan State House of Representatives by Democrat Philip O. Mastin of Hazel Park, any community experiencing economic growth in the area of industrial or commercial development would have to split the "worth" of new developments for assessment purposes on a 50-50 basis within a "development region" specified by the bill.

...any community experiencing economic growth would have to split the 'worth' ...

In the case of Romulus, half the worth of a development would be distributed in the region composed of Wayne, Oakland, Macomb, Washtenaw, Livingston, Monroe and St. Clair counties — the same region that is covered by the Southeastern Michigan Council of Governments (SEMCOG).

According to Wilson, the request for action on the bill came from Romulus City Councilman Beverly McAnally after she attended a SEMCOG meeting to discuss the impact of the proposal.

The meeting was the same attended by City Treasurer John B. Lewkowicz and Mayor James Stewart of Romulus, however, neither Lewkowicz nor Stewart indicated that the councilman also attended the session.

"We're grateful that Mrs. McAnally brought the matter to our attention," Wilson said in informing The Romulus Roman. "This proposal could have a devastating impact on the development of Romulus, and should be defeated in the Legislature, if it's adopted as first proposed."

In part, the resolution adopted by the Democrats also urges labor unions to become involved in the fight against the bill because of a fear that "lack of development" could cost laborers work.

Although Wilson is an official of the United Automobile Workers, he did not say whether the union was going to back the stand against the proposal.

The Democrats' action preceded action by the Romulus City Council taking a similar stand on the bill and came at the same time that Lewkowicz and Stewart made their thoughts known on the sharing plan.

Music accolades keep flowing to Romulus

The Romulus High School Symphony Band has continued receiving high marks in competition with similar bands from throughout the state.

The symphony band received a second-division rating during competition in Fenton, sponsored by the Michigan School Band and Orchestra Association.

The competition in Fenton was part of the state finals in for ratings of individual bands which started two months ago.

Romulus earned the honor to play in Fenton by receiving a first-division rating of its performance at regional competition in March.

According to Ralph Miller, band instructor for the school, the Romulus symphony received a "first division" rating for its work on songs the band studied prior to the competition.

However, the band received a third division rating for its work on two songs which had to be studied at the competition and received an overall second division or very good for its day of work.

"The band performed well, especially when you consider we had five days to prepare for the competition due to the 10-day Easter holiday," Miller said following the event in Fenton. "Romulus residents have much to be proud of with this musical assembly."

Residents can see the Romulus band in action two times during the month.

On May 16, the band will perform as part of the Greenfield Village Country Fair Weekend, starting with a parade at 1 p.m. and an outdoor concert at 3 p.m.

The Romulus assembly is one of only eight bands from across the nation selected for the Greenfield Village performance and received a Sunday to perform its works.

Following the historical performance, the band also will be holding its annual spring concert.

The three school bands — Symphony Band, Stage Band and Concert Band — will be performing at 8 p.m. May 20 in the Romulus High School Auditorium.

Tunes from "Man of La Mancha" and "The Entertainer" by Scott Joplin will be among the songs performed during the free concert. In addition, the stage band will be playing music from the 1950s as its portion of the show.

All area residents are invited to the performance, which is held free of charge each year at the high school.

Choir concert shows off their 'originals'

Students compose, perform own music

The Romulus High School's annual spring choir concert featured some original songs prepared by

A song known as "Chalk It Up to Experience," written by sophomore Johnnie Smith and sung to the arrangement of Nell Walker, also a sophomore, was one of the featured numbers during the Tuesday evening show.

Better than 55 choir members and 40 Glee Club members put on the show for parents and students in the district at the Romulus High School Auditorium.

Also featured during the show was an arrangement of "Rocky Mountain High" sung by Matt Lipinski, a teacher at the school, and the song "Ballad for Americans," sung by Senior John Swazey.

The singing students also plan to take their entertainment outside the community when the visit the Lexington House Convalescent Center on Venoy Road in Wayne next Thursday to put on an "Oldies But Goodies" evening for residents of the center.

The tour is planned by the Vocal Music Club.

Planned for May 14 by the vocal music club is a fund-raising Rock Concert, with tickets $2.50 at the door for the evening of entertainment.

Two local groups, including a band known as "The Side Effect" will perform during the evening.

Proceeds from the event will go to the Vocal Music Club which will use the funds to promote vocal music at the school and to provide music scholarships for deserving students.

Rev. Cline dies: Congregation mourns passing

A long-time Romulus resident and pastor of the First Baptist Church of Romulus, died April 19 just four days after he celebrated his 41st anniversary of his ordination.

The Rev. Grover Cleveland Cline, 84, a nearly 40-year resident of Romulus, died April 19 just four days after he celebrated his 41st anniversary as a minister.

The Rev. Cline, who was born in Flatonia, Tex., on Sept. 12, 1893, was ordained a minister in the Baptist Church while a member of the Macedonia Baptist Church of Detroit on April 14, 1935.

He moved to Romulus shortly afterwards and was named assistant minister of the First Baptist Church of Romulus in 1937.

He served as either assistant minister or minister of the congregation until his death.

Surviving the Rev. Cline, who was buried following ceremonies at the church recently, are his wife of 55 years, Mamie; a son, Grover Jr.; six grandchildren and "many relatives and friends."

Funeral arrangements for The Rev. Cline were held at the Penn Funeral Home in Inkster.

Trade fair space available; 150 retailers exhibit wares

Space still is available for the Belleville Area and Canton Chambers of Commerce joint Spring Trade Fair in Van Buren Township May 21-23.

To be located at Wayne County 4-H

Fairgrounds in Van Buren Township, the fair will feature booths from as many as 150 retail outlets and manufacturers from throughout Western Wayne County.

The idea of the fair is to offer residents a view of the kind of commerce available them in the Van Buren-Belleville-Canton area of Wayne County.

Carnival rides from the Gooding Amusement Co. will provide entertainment for youngsters, while adults will have the opportunity to pursue the "buys" available from local merchants and artisans during the weekend event.

In addition, a Polish ethnic dance group will show its talents on Saturday afternoon, and Dennis Harkness will hold an "old fashioned antique action" at both 7:30 p.m. May 21 and 2:30 p.m. May 23.

Information on the fair, or on obtaining space to exhibit at the fair, can be obtained by calling the Belleville Area Chamber at 697-7151 or the Canton chamber at 453-4040.

Kiwanis flip jacks at pancake festival

The Romulus Kiwanis Club's annual pancake festival will be held on May 22 from 7 a.m. to 7 p.m. at the Romulus Progressive Hall, 11580 Ozga Road at Five Points, Romulus. The Kiwanians are holding the pancake festival in addition to their annual peanut sale to provide funds for various service projects.

Proceeds from the pancake festival will go to support the dental program for indigent children and other community activities.

Senior citizens give robes

The Belleville Senior Citizens Club has distributed more than 100 lap robes to convalescent homes in the area during the past few months.

The project, begun by Ethel Cullin, is continuing, with seniors asking all area residents to become involved by donating new or used washable material for use in the robes.

To date, Minnie Schultz is the "champion" lap robe maker, having accounted for 40 robes.

Myrtle Wells and her committees have delivered the robes to homes and have reported back to the seniors that persons in convalescent homes who received the hand-made goods appreciated them.

Planned for this month by the senior citizens is a spring garage sale, scheduled for May 27-28.

In addition during the first week of the month, the seniors will honor Reg Atyeo, Blanche Atyeo, Leona Baker, Leslie Caswell, Ethel Cullin, Harold Cullin, Myrtle Gasilo, Myrtle Goble, Velma Kulzer, Elma Mack, Bill Moser, Harry Pinter, Jean Randall, George Renton, Emma Sala, Zilpha Steele, Daisie Clark and Geraldine Wooden for having either a birthday or anniversary during the month.

Scheduled for the second Thursday of May is a bingo party featuring prizes of silver dollars and 50-cent pieces.

May 20 will be a "Grandmother-granddaughter, Grandfather-grandson" night for the seniors. Specially planned for the evening is entertainment for club members by some of the "younger set" from Belleville.

The fourth Thursday of the month will feature the potluck dinner at 6:30 p.m. Seniors attending the dinner are urged to bring a friend and acquaint that friend with the club's activities.

During the past month, the Kitchen Belles Band carried its brand of entertainment to the Westland Convalescent Home.

County equalized value dips due to inventory exemption

Because of a state statute, enacted last year, which exempts business inventory from property taxation in 1976, the total equalized value of property in Wayne County is $1.1 billion less than in 1975, latest figures show.

A total equalized value of $13,167,822,000 for taxable property for 1976 was approved by the county Board of Commissioners April 29. The sum represents a decrease of $1,172,083,850 from 1975.

"The loss is directly attributable to Public Act 234 and could be misleading, if not understood in context with other legislation," said George E. McEachran, acting director of the county Bureau of Taxation.

He explained that another state law — Act 228 — also enacted last year, provides for later reimbursement from the state for losses based on inventory certified on 1975 tax rolls.

The certified loss for Wayne County is $1,503,452,722. When this sum is added to the 1976 total property value, it exceeds the 1975 amount by $331,368,872, McEachran said.

The exemption of business inventory from property taxation this year relates to budget advantages for the Legislature.

"It's my understanding that the method of exempting the inventory, then later reimbursing for the loss provides more flexibility in the fiscal year," he added.

The equalized property valuations for the 43 cities and townships in Wayne County were approved by the Board after recommendation from the General Government Committee which held a public hearing on the rates April 26. Only Huron and Sumpter townships raised objections.

The state-imposed equalization process is designed to ensure that each local community has assessed its taxable property at the constitutionally-required level of 50 percent of its true cash value.

The aggregate property values and equalization factors for the Western Wayne County communities are Canton Township with an assessed value of $190,450,840 and equalized value of $209,941,750; Huron Township with $19,443,010 assessed and $50,567,030 equalized; Sumpter Township with $38,221,050 assessed and $42,229,270 equalized; and Van Buren Township with $59,477,280 assessed and $115,942,940 equalized.

Dance in time

Chorus members in the giant production of the Lerner and Lowe musical "My Fair Lady," to be put on at Belleville High School Friday and Saturday and May 13, 14 and 15. Kicking in time to the music, the students are practicing their routine for the well-known chorus number "Get Me To The Church on Time" performed during the course of the musical.

BHS students will present Lerner and Lowe musical

Two weekends in May will be filled with songs like "I Could Have Danced All Night" and "With a Little Bit of Luck" as the Belleville High School student actors and singers put on the Lerner and Lowe musical "My Fair Lady."

Based on the George Bernard Shaw play "Pygmalion," the musical deals with the "education" of a common English chambermaid into a sophisticated woman by a college professor.

Performances of the show, which will be put on by more than 150 students from Belleville High School, are scheduled for Friday and Saturday and May 13, 14 and 15 at 8 p.m. in the Belleville High School Auditorium.

The play will be under the direction of Louise Pitcher with assistance from Karen Sinkus and technical direction by Glenn Curtis.

According to a student description of the show, "My Fair Lady" is "a witty, intelligent, ironic and romantic work that will immediately capture the delight of the audience."

Tickets for the performances can be purchased in advance at the Belleville High School Auditorium or on the night of performances at the ticket window.

The high school students will continue their traditional "Senior Citizens" night on May 13, when all seniors from the Belleville-Van Buren Township community carrying gold senior citizen cards will be admitted free.

Restaurants throughout the area also are participating this year, offering special dinner discounts to diners each night so they can wine and dine before attending the musical at 8 p.m.

Students performing in this year's spring musical include Stan King in the part of Professor Henry Higgins, Andrea Price as Eliza Doolittle and John Price as Colonel Pickering.

Other performers are Bart Berger as Alfred P. Doolittle, Tom Laine as Freddy Eynsford-Hill, Jane Salutz as Mrs. Higgins, Michelle Phillips as Mrs. Pearce and Tom Russell as Zoltan Karpathy.

Restaurants participating in the discount nights include the Village Sub, Big Boy's, Flaggs and Little Caesars.

Diners of any age who present tickets to the performances will be given dinner discounts each night.

In addition, prior to each performance, flower girls will be selling flowers to those attending the show in the lobby of the auditorium.

Leading man

Stan King, a junior at Belleville High School, will play the leading role in the Lerner and Lowe musical "My Fair Lady" to be put on by more than 150 students from the high school. Decked out in his high school letter sweater for rehearsal, King here gets the "feel" for the part by wearing a typically-English hat.

4-H panel to sponsor horse show May 23

The Wayne County 4-H Horse and Pony Developmental Committee will be sponsoring a horse show, beginning at 9 a.m. May 23, at 18284 Inkster Road between Sibley and Pennsylvania in Romulus.

Registration for the show, which will be held rain or shine, for the first class will close at 8:30 a.m. An entry fee of $2 for Class A will be charged.

Six rosettes per class and three high-point trophies will be awarded. Joe Wilcox of Howell, Mich., will serve as judge for the events.

Classes for showing in the event will be 1975 and 76 weanlings at halter, 1974 mares and geldings at halter, grade horses three years and older at halter, registered horses three years and older and stallions at halter, two years and older. These six classes are open to all show participants and will not count toward high-point trophies.

Other judging classes will be fitting and showing in English and western for those 14 years and under and 15 years and older, plus a fitting and showing for ponies open to all ages; English equitation for 14 and under and 15 and over; pony horsemanship both English and western for all ages; English pleasure for 14 and under and 15 and over, with the pony pleasure in English and Western open to all ages, and leadline for those 8 years and under.

The afternoon portion of the show will see judging in junior working hunters over fences for ponies and horse open to all ages; bareback horsemanship for 14 and under and 15 and over; western horsemanship for 14 and under and 15 and over; western pleasure for 14 and under and 15 and over; western riding-ponies included — for all ages.

Commission recommends involvement

Should state enter power field?

By BOB BERG
Panax Lansing Bureau Chief

LANSING — One thing you know for sure about the governor's Commission on Electric Power Alternatives — they didn't look for the easy way out.

The commission's recommendation that the state get into the business of building electric power plants is sure to generate a great deal of debate over the next few months — much of it heated.

What it basically recommended was that the Public Service Commission take over sole authority to determine when and if new electrical generating plants will be built. The commission would then decide whether to let a private company or the publicly owned authority build the plant. Since the public authority would be tax exempt and not make a

'We don't have free enterprise in the utility field now'

— James Brickley

"The reason for our existence was the statement by the utilities last year they couldn't meet the needs of the future," said Commission Chairman James Brickley.

Brickley dismissed the charge his group's recommendation involved state incursion into the free enterprise system.

"We don't have free enterprise in the utility field now," he said. "It's a monopoly. There is no competition at all."

Brickley says the proposal would "give the utilities the best of both worlds" by assuring their continued existence and by using them as the distributor of power generated by the state-built plants. They would be allowed to make profits based on the cost of their distribution equipment.

"A lot of decisions the utilities are now being blamed for are controlled by the Public Service Commission," he says. "The decision on whether to expand is dependent on rates the PSC allows."

Brickley points out the plan, which will now be the object of a series of public hearings, was not the brainchild of a group of wild-eyed socialists. Among those on the commission voting for it were University of Michigan economist

Paul McCracken, a former chairman of the presidents council of economic advisors under Richard Nixon, and Bendix Corporation President Michael Blumenthal.

When kidded gently about being a Republican and proposing such a plan, he said, "I think there are Republicans in Lansing" — a reference to the city owned Board of Water and Light.

The area of utility services is a mixed bag across the country, mostly privately owned but with substantial segments of publicly owned power systems, especially in rural areas that were ignored for years by privately owned utilities. The entire state of Nebraska — one of the more conservative in the country — has publicly owned power companies. Indeed, there is a state law prohibiting privately owned electric companies.

It is a long road from initial proposal to reality and if the plan or any semblance of it becomes reality it will take years of work.

Perhaps the most important aspect of it is that the field of future needs is being given a cold, hard look. It is only by keeping a sharp eye on the horizon that problems such as blackouts and brownouts will be avoided.

Water rate increase: Which side is right?

This week's act in Southeast Michigan's never-to-close drama, "Us agin' Them", is built around a 39-percent rate increase sought by the Detroit Water Board.

The "Us" (the suburbs) representatives, our duly elected spokesmen, are unanimously and vociferously against it until, they say, it is justified. They are joined by several politically ambitious members of Detroit City Council.

"Them," in this case represented by the Water Board and its director, Charles Scales, are just as vociferous that they have justified the need and the law is on their side.

Woven into the passionate dialogue are hints (but no specifics) of all kinds of inefficiency, mismanagement, municipal profiteering and dark political motivations.

Two things strike us about this newest scenario and its actors.

One is the inexperience at persuading public opinion of the "Thems," those in the new Detroit ruling class which accompanied Coleman Young to power. Too often its attitude smacks of a highhanded demand for unquestioning agreement when calm, reason and perhaps a bit of humility would do the job much better.

The other is the failure of the "Us" representatives to do their homework. Or if they did, how they completely ignored parts of it in favor of rhetoric that, in this light, seems designed only to impress the rest of "Us."

The Water Board asked for and got its last increase in 1972. The current request is not far out of line with the inflation rate for wages and fringe benefits, power, chemicals and other supplies during that period.

The formula followed in establishing the 39-percent figure was the same one followed in 1967 and 1972 when the last increases were installed. It was developed by Black & Veatch, a Kansas City engineering firm.

Even so, the increase must be explained and justified. Most of the "US" spokesmen say they would subside if an independent audit could do that. They don't, they say, trust Detroit city auditors.

Last October, the Water Board hired an outside independent auditing firm, Arthur Young & Co., to make an audit. The firm made its report in March. Meanwhile, in the last weeks of December, the Board gave its customers 120 days notice of the proposed increase.

This is where we become confused and perhaps a little irritated.

Even a casual reading of Water Board Manager Scales' presentation at last week's hearing shows more than a touch of impatience and arrogance.

We've given these people all the facts and figures and we're not going to repeat them here in public, he says in effect. That is coupled with dire threats of cutting off water to "US" for up to nine and half hours a day, veiled charges some of "Us" are ripping off each other by jacking up local water prices above what the Water Board gets for it, and the implication that if we don't want Detroit's water on his terms we can get it somewhere else.

That's hardly the way to win friends and influence people toward "Them."

On the other hand, every one of the "Us" spokesmen, failed to mention either the Young audit or the Black & Veatch formula.

These are the two basic sets of facts on which the rate increase either can be justified or demolished. Either the "Us" spokesmen don't know of their existence—in which case they didn't do their homework very well — or they chose to ignore them for their own reasons.

We don't know which, if either, is right. But that's the way it looks.

Nor do we know whether a rate increase of 39-percent or any other figure is justified. We don't know because the people who should be telling us the facts haven't done so, yet.

The only thing we're sure of is that the curtain hasn't yet rung down on this act in an apparently never-ending play.

profit, there seems to be little doubt about which would do the job more cheaply, and thus get the bid.

The recommendation met with unanimous opposition by the members of the commission associated with utilities — Detroit Edison board member Richard Gerstenberg, Consumers Power board member Richard Gillett, Russell Bjorkman of the Utility Workers Union of America and Stan Arnold of the building trades union. They were joined by Dow Chemical President Earle Barnes.

Their basic argument was that what is needed is higher rates for utilities to allow them to earn more money and do all their own construction work.

What the commission majority decided, however, was that the costs involved are so great the traditional way can't meet them. It projected future construction needs totalling $4.4 billion by 1985 — almost as much as the total value of all generating plants now in existence.

It decided that sort of money just can't be generated by the utilities.

Political pressures threaten existence of Edison: Meese

DETROIT — William G. Meese, chairman and chief executive officer of the Detroit Edison Company, charged recently that politically motivated infringements into the utilities' field place "undue political pressures on those who are charged with regulatory responsibility for our company" and thereby threaten the company's very existence.

Addressing the company's annual shareholders meeting for the first time as Board Chairman, Meese said the most recent rate increase of $62.4 million granted by the Michigan Public Service Commission (SC) on March 30 reflected that political pressure.

He said the Commission, in its rate order, acknowledged that past rate increases had been "insufficient" but then itself granted a rate increase that was inadequate.

Meese said "the effects of the constant pressure from professional critics were also evident" earlier in April in the report of the Governor's Advisory Commission on Electric Power Alternatives.

This Commission had recommended that the State assume responsibility for forecasting future electric energy needs and be permitted to construct and own generating plants, selling their output to the state's electric utilities.

Meese singled out two "offenders" for particular mention — Attorney General Frank Kelley and the special House PSC Study Committee.

The Attorney General, he said, "while serving as the chief law enforcement officer of the state, has devoted considerable time, effort, and energy to baiting the utilities, suggesting that we're overbuilt, downgrading the state's future energy requirements, and calling for rate reductions where clearly increases are warranted and necessary."

The House committee, Meese said, "seized on a fertile political moment to investigate the Public Service Commission — a moment when a new Public Service Commission chairman was just taking office, when inflation was a major public concern, and when congressional nominations were being considered." He charged the committee with releasing, "out of context, information on numerous aspects of our business that its reports reveal it doesn't understand."

"We respect the right of the legislature to protect the consumer's interests," he said, "but we respectfully submit that this is not the time or the field for the instant expert."

'...we submit that this is not the time... for the instant expert'

— William Meese

The Edison chairman noted that Theodore Roosevelt, "still the biggest trust-buster to date," demanded that "big business give people a square deal," but said "in return we must insist that when anyone engaged in big business honestly endeavors to do right, he shall himself be given a square deal."

"We are trying to do right," Meese said. "Where is the square deal for us in return?"

Citing a string of financial, technological and organizational advances that he said were made in 1975 "despite the rhetoric, the harassment, the infringements and the pressures," Meese told the shareholders that it would be necessary for them to help in future relations with government if the company were to continue to meet its obligations in the face of continuing external forces.

The board chairman asked them to "let your numbers be counted" by writing to state representatives, the governor, the attorney general, the Public Service Commission and the newspapers "to let them know that you are not taken in by the irresponsible talk — that you believe that fair treatment for Detroit Edison is vital to the future of our state. The future of our company depends on your personal involvement as well as management's."

As I see it

Edison must do better job of selling rate increases

By BOB COCHRANE
Editor of Enterprise-Roman

Like so many other people I have become critical of our public utilities' maddening rate hike requests.

One rate increase request after another. Aren't they ever satisfied, I have often asked myself?

Trouble is, I always asked the wrong person.

At a recent no-holds-barred press meeting with Detroit Edison officials in Taylor, during which every thing was on the record, I discovered that Edison, like so many other utilities, is hurting badly.

Walter Meese, chairman and chief executive officer of Edison, is terribly concerned over the utility's image in the eyes of the public.

It bothers him because he knows the public doesn't understand why Edison must constantly ask for rate hikes. He knows that most customers do not realize they are paying probably less for their electrical service than charged by other electrical utilities throughout the United States.

For example: He says an Edison customer pays an average of $20 a month while his contemporary in New York probably is paying closer to $40.

He knows that most customers are not aware that the rates they pay are used to cover primarily operational expenses, including depreciation and keeping up with the inflationary spiral.

"We build by borrowing," Meese says. "And right now we are barely attracting the capital we need."

Edison, as most other companies do, builds on debt. That's why it needs those constant rate increases. To improve its credit. To make it attractive as possible. Shockingly enough, however, Edison's most recent rate increase of $62.4 million will not improve its credit that much—if at all.

Meese says Edison borrows at 12 percent but only earns seven percent on its investments.

"That's a good way to go out of business, he ruefully points out. Then why does Edison do it?"

"We're doing it so we can continue serving our present and future customers," Meese says.

What he really was saying was that Edison was doing it to survive.

The utility stopped production of its Fermi nuclear power plant in Monroe in 1974 because it didn't have any more money to finish it.

Meese says it is extremely important that Edison complete that project, and begin building other generating plants.

"We intend to finish it because we have a large investment," he explains.

But the company can't finish the plant unless it has the funds. Meese says the utility will need at least $600 million and about five years to complete the project.

Because rate hikes are so misunderstood, the utilities, in my opinion, must do a far better job of communicating to the public the reasons why they need those rate hikes. So far, they haven't done that.

Be that as it may, for the very first time I have empathy with the utilities, and especially Edison.

I was impressed with Meese. Despite the fact that he painted a gloomy future he was far from being the fatalist.

He believes that with fair treatment for Detroit Edison, which is vital to the future of Michigan, the company will survive and become stronger, serve better and retain the public's confidence and respect.

Rebellion urged against Supreme Court tyranny

By PATRICK J. BUCHANAN
New York Times News Service

WASHINGTON: — When James Earl Carter Jr., dropped his little gem about preserving "ethnic purity," the flap served a useful function. Candidates were required to declare themselves on the issue of integrated housing.

Not unexpectedly, they all took refuge in the same shelter: in favor of enforcing fair housing laws, against using federal power to change the racial or ethnic composition of neighborhoods.

Now the U.S. Supreme Court has for all purposes terminated the discussion, and unilaterally settled the matter. Federal district courts were conceded the authority to order the Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD) to scatter public housing for poor and black throughout the suburbs of Middle America.

According to one Martin Sloane, director of the National Committee Against Discrimination in Housing, if HUD follows the ruling "enthusiastically," the sky is the limit in terms of opening up the white suburbs to low-income blacks.

The decision, says Sloane happily, will have "enormous impact." Having just returned from Boston, brought to the sword's point of racial conflict by another federal court decision with "enormous impact," I find Mr. Sloane's enthusiasm disquieted.

Messrs. Udall and Jackson pledged at once to "enforce the law," if elected. "It suits me fine," said a relieved Jimmy Carter. Well, what about the rest of the country? Who consulted the people on this sweeping decision to empower the federal bureaucracy to place public housing in the heart of the suburban communities and neighborhoods. Who asked popular approval of this decisive social policy which could guarantee a half-century of the kind of racial tensions and violence we have witnessed in the last decade? The answer is no one. In a democratic republic, the essence of wise public policy appears to argue that far-reaching social decisions be hammered out in the political arena, not decided in chambers by jurists appointed for life and accountable to no one but their own ideology and conscience.

A majority of Americans believe profoundly that the racial, economic and ethnic composition of communities should be the result of the free choice of individuals who move there. Integrationists reject this view. They believe that the good society requires everywhere a racial, ethnic and economic mix.

They are entitled to their views. But they are not entitled to have those views imposed dictatorially upon recalcitrant communities through the coercive powers of the federal court.

When, if ever, is the Republican Party going to stand up?

Why Democrats approve and applaud court decisions is easy to understand. At the national level, they are committed integrationists. They realize that if a majority of Americans reject their philosophy the only way it can prevail is through the directives of the federal courts.

But what excuse have President Ford and the Republicans for acquiescing in this latest official encroachment? When his New Deal reforms were dumped over by a conservative court, FDR, as other strong presidents before him, declared political war on the Supreme Court, and ultimately prevailed. For 15 years, however, the Republicans have watched, chagrined, and paralyzed, while the court has come close to ruling the Republican vision of the Good Society as unconstitutional.

Because of constructions the court has placed upon the Constitution, pornography now runs unimpeded like an open sewer through American culture. The death penalty is continually imposed by hoodlums and thugs upon housewives, children and shopkeepers — never, however, upon the criminals themselves. Children are transported around like cattle through a public school system where prayer is outlawed. "I hold it," said Mr. Jefferson, "that a little rebellion now and then is a good thing, and as necessary in the political world as storms in the physical."

"A little rebellion" against the tyranny of the U.S. Supreme Court is precisely what is needed. Mr. Ford should direct HUD, publicly, to make the strictest possible interpretation of the latest court order.

He should then consider a range of options from congressional legislation to Constitutional amendment to circumscribe dramatically, in matters of race, education and housing, the judicial authority of the U.S. Supreme Court.

Uniform fee schedule for doctors is sought

By TOM OCHILTREE
Panax Washington Correspondent
WASHINGTON — Rep. Philip E. Ruppe, (R-Mich.), has introduced legislation calling for a uniform schedule of reimbursements paid physicians under the federal medicare and medicaid programs.

In a statement inserted in the Congressional Record, Ruppe attacked the present city-rural differential in such fees.

That arrangement, he argued, means that areas such as the Upper Peninsula in his district do not attract an adequate number of doctors since new members of the profession tend to gravitate to places like metropolitan Detroit instead.

"I firmly believe," Ruppe said, "that the reimbursement policies of the past must not be perpetuated in the future. Therefore, I have introduced legislation to remedy this situation."

"It requires that a uniform fee schedule be set in each state and reimbursement of physicians under medicare and medicaid be equalized.

"I would urge the house ways and means committee to give serious consideration to this problem. Rural health care problems are all too serious without the continuing disincentive of discriminatory reimbursement rates."

When the present arrangement was decided upon it was assumed it would cost a young doctor more to establish a practice and earn his livelihood in the city than in the country.

According to Ruppe, recent studies have shown that doctors' costs run nearly equally in all parts of Michigan, rural and urban.

Ruppe insisted it was unfair to treat two doctors of equal training and equal competency differently solely on the basis of where they live.

Ford reverses stand over canal control

By JEFFREY ST. JOHN
Copley News Service

WASHINGTON — "With Cuba under control of the Soviet Union via Castro," insisted Gerald R. Ford on July 8, 1967, "and increased subversion in Latin America, a Communist threat to the Canal is a real danger."

This statement was made three years before the installation of a Marxist regime in Chile, subsequently overthrown, and eight years before Castro openly sent combat forces to fight in Angola.

As Republican minority leader in the House, Ford was very much opposed to surrendering U.S. control of the Panama Canal. "Any action on our part," he said in 1967, "to meet a threat involving the national security of the United States should not be hamstrung by the need for time-consuming consultation with a government that might be reluctant to cooperate in the defense, or possibly be in opposition to our best interests."

The current military dictator of Panama, General Omar Torrijos Herrera, has indicated by his statements and actions that in any showdown over the vital waterway he could not be counted on to side with this nation. In fact, his warming relationship with Castro included a January visit to Cuba and he is allowing some 60 Cubans to be stationed in the Havana Embassy in Panama City, an abnormally high number of embassy personnel for so small a nation.

Further, General Torrijos recently warned the U.S. that riots and violence might beset the Panama Canal unless the Ford administration concludes a new treaty with his country by 1977. Chief U.S. negotiator Ellsworth Bunker has echoed this political blackmail.

"Some form of conflict in Panama would be virtually certain," he said recently, "and it would be the kind of conflict which would be costly for all concerned."

Republican challenger Ronald Reagan has made the Ford administration's willingness to negotiate a new treaty a major campaign issue. In reply, Ford and his principal campaign aides and staffers have labeled Reagan's attack on the administration "irresponsible." Yet, what Reagan is saying in 1976 is what Congressman Gerald Ford said back in 1967. And in the last nine years the actions of Castro in Latin America and elsewhere have greatly increased the security risks to the Panama Canal.

There is no doubt that, now as President, Ford has placed his personal approval on negotiating a new treaty with Panama. This fact was made clear when Bunker testified before the Panama Canal sub-committee of the House Merchant Marine Fisheries Committee on April 8.

"We are proceeding," Bunker said in his testimony, "under guidelines established by the President, both by President Nixon and President Ford." Pressed on this issue by Congressman H. G. (Gene) Snyder (R-Ky.), Bunker revealed that his mandate to negotiate came from Ford in the form of a memorandum "signed by the President."

The issue here is not that in a period of nine years, Ford can't change his mind, even over a vital issue like the Panama Canal, but that he could be so demagogic and even irresponsible when he is confronted with the same arguments from Ronald Reagan that he himself advanced in 1967! At that time, on July 8, 1967, Ford was quoted as saying that he was "shocked" by the then Johnson administration's proposals made public at the time for a new canal treaty. The proposals made public by the Johnson administration are the same ones Henry Kissinger agreed to on February 7, 1975!

President Ford has clearly panicked on the Panama Canal issue in answering former California Governor Reagan. He is also applying political pancake in answering Reagan, who has made a vital contribution to the much needed public discussion over the question of whether we should negotiate a new treaty with a military dictator who has indicated partiality toward another dictator, Fidel Castro.

Ronald Reagan has been criticized since he first entered politics for being more an actor than a political leader. But if one were to judge the performances of President Ford and Mr. Reagan over the Panama Canal issue, the President is by far turning in the best performance with their roles being reversed on the national stage.

Pointe Mouille to get dike to protect shore

From Panax Washington Bureau
WASHINGTON — The U.S. Army Corps of Engineers will let a $15,355,853 contract for construction of the first phase of a dike at Pointe Mouille to contain dredged materials from the River Rouge and the Detroit River.

The corps informed Rep. Marvin L. Esch, R-Mich., of its decision. Construction of this barrier dike will begin this summer.

Esch described the project as environmentally sound with added recreational benefits for boaters and others who use the Pointe Mouille area. The project will have a total cost of $31 million.

"I have worked with environmental groups and the Corps of Engineers for the past three years in an effort to secure funding for this important project," Esch said.

The dike is designed to protect the Pointe Mouille shore line which has been badly buffeted by flood waters in recent years and will protect wild life habitat of the area.

Korean newspaper men visit in Belleville

By Mrs. Joseph Spring
699-4021

Guests this past week at the West Columbia Avenue home of Mrs. Henry Sager were friends of her brother, Marvin Meerse: Peter Park from Seoul, Korea, assistant editor of Korea's largest newspaper, Dong-A-Ilbo; and Raymond Yao from Hong Kong, who is assistant editor of a weekly magazine, "Far Eastern Economic Review."

Both men are doing advanced work at the University of Hawaii in Honolulu on a Jefferson Fellowship Scholarship. During their stay here they visited the Ford Museum at Greenfield Village and the Cadillac Motor Plant.

After having spent the past two months with relatives in the west, Mrs. B. P. Hopson of Belleville Road returned home April 22.

While gone she spent five weeks with her sister and husband, Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Hearn at Yachats, Ore. She visited with an uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Thornton of Seattle, Wash. and spent some time with a brother and wife, Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Thornton at Boise, Idaho. In McCall, Idaho, she was pleased to attend a "This is Your Life" birthday celebration for a niece, Mrs. Brad Gauss.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Cullin of Sumpter Road have returned home after spending a week at Litchfield, Ohio with their son, Glenn, his wife and family.

During the Easter vacation Mr. and Mrs. Justin Emerson of Madelon Street enjoyed a pleasure trip to San Francisco and Las Vegas, Nev.

Store Keeper 2-C E5 Robert and Mrs. Clark and two children are spending some time with his mother, Mrs. Jeanne Clark of Montague Street. Robert, who has spent the past two years in the Philippine Islands with the U.S. Navy, is now enroute to Florida where he will be stationed at the Electronic Warfare Range at Estor.

Sunday guests at the Liberty Street home of Velma Kulzer were Mrs. Heinrich Husen and a lady friend from Birmingham.

After having spent the past three weeks at Bryan, Ohio with her sister and husband, Mr. and Mrs. George Kuchne, Mrs. Hazel Bryan of Wabash Street returned home last week Tuesday.

Mrs. Margaret Anderson of East Huron River Drive and her granddaughter, Roberta Anderson of Belleville Road, have returned home after enjoying a trip through the East. Arriving at Plattsburgh, N.Y., they visited with another granddaughter, Rebecca Anderson, who is with the U.S. Air Force.

Over the Easter weekend the threesome visited with the H. W. Nass family at Goshen, N.Y. Later they visited Au Sable Chasm and enjoyed a ferry boat trip across Lake Champlain to Burlington, Vt. The two Belleville ladies motored home through Montreal, Ont., Canada.

Mrs. Edgar Quinley of Sumpter Road returned home last Tuesday from Lexington, Ky., where she had been called by the serious illness of her father, Walter Gambrell of Corbin, who was in a Lexington Hospital.

Dorothy R. Kellas of Margery Street and a friend, Mildred Mackey of Detroit, recently enjoyed a 7-day trip to Puerto Rico. While there they toured the city of San Juan and surrounding area and took a plane trip to St. Thomas in the Virgin Islands.

Mrs. Bernice Knop of East Jordan was a weekend guest of her niece, Mrs. Clayton Saunders of Liberty Street.

On Friday, Mr. and Mrs. Lynn Saunders and small son, Jeffrey, of Fraser, were dinner guests of his mother and grandmother, Mrs. Lillian Moore.

Metro permits are set

The metropark vehicle entry permit, required for entry into the 10 Huron-Clinton Metropolitan Authority parks throughout southeastern Michigan, will be offered to senior citizens at a reduced rate this year.

The 1976 Metropark entry permits will cost senior citizens $1 a year instead of the $3 charged in 1975.

The senior citizen rate applies to persons aged 62 years or over, while others will pay the usual $5 annually, or $1 daily rate for metropark vehicle entry permits.

The new policy was announced by William E. Kreger, chairman of the Huron-Clinton Metropolitan Authority. The authority's 10 parks are located in Wayne, Livingston, Macomb, Oakland and Washtenaw counties.

Senior citizens must show proof of age, and the permits are sold only at the offices at six locations, not at the toll gates when charges begin in May. None of the permits will be sold through the mail.

Further information can be obtained by John K. Sterling Jr. at 961-5865.

Vernier-Sliwa wed at St. Stephen's

In a double ring ceremony March 26 at St. Stephen's Catholic Church in New Boston, Tina Marie Sliwa exchanged wedding vows with Jerry Lee Vernier.

The Rev. Alexander J. Wytrwal presided at the 5:30 p.m. nuptial mass before an altar appointed with white chrysanthemums and purple irises.

The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Sliwa Jr. of 19800 Sumpter Rd., Belleville, the bride was escorted to the sanctuary by her father. For her wedding day, she chose a toe-touching gown of silk organza and re-embroidered Alencon lace. The empire bodice, frosted with appliques of lace and seed pearls, was fashioned with bishop sleeves cuffed in matching lace.

A petaled headpiece studded with seed pearls secured her three-tiered silk illusion veil which drifted to mid-back length. Cascading white gladiolas, gladiola petals and baby's breath completed her bridal ensemble.

As her sister's maid of honor, Cindy Sliwa donned a blue polyester frock styled with long sleeves inserted with white lace. The head-dress which she made was of matching lace with a tiny blue bow centered with a fan-shaped effect and edged with a short veil. Sheryl Hudge, the only bridesmaid, also made her own headgear and wore an identical dress. Both attendants wore wrist corsages of white daisies tipped in blue.

The bridegroom, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Smith of 46050 Judd Rd., Belleville, asked Briant Waddell of Belleville to serve as best man. Paul Crowder of Belleville was

Work readiness

Readiness for the world of work is important at all levels of education in the Van Buren Public Schools. Since Frank Hill, teacher at North Junior High School, believes that career awareness should be part of his general business curriculum, he recently invited a field representative from the Social Department to speak to his classes. David Marchard (standing) discussed the concept of social security as well as job opportunities with the Federal Government. Many of the students including Jamie Quilton (from left), Dave Hill and Roseland Reed will complete application forms for Social Security cards. They were encouraged to discuss the matter with their families.

Women of Moose add newcomers

Women of the Moose, Belleville Chapter 1135, has enrolled six new co-workers: Marion Minthorn, Peggy Domick, Patricia Thomas, Josephine Woody, Pat Szwoko and Hazel Solo.

The Michigan Moose Association Mid-Year Convention was held April 23-25. As of Sunday there were 784 registered Women of the Moose, 360 being Academy of Friendship. There were 249 women getting their Friendship; eight from Belleville being Senior Regent Fran Elliott, Mary Frazier, Annabelle Sobolewski, Sandra Groves, Betty Sharpe, Linda Akers, Olga Henrikson and Evelyn Celske.

Martha Morton is chairman for a blood pressure clinic to be held at the Moose Home. This is open to the public May 6 and 20 between 1 and 8 p.m. Don't overlook these dates since this is important to the health of everyone and is free to all. Election of officers will be held May 24, the business meeting night. The next chapter Night meeting will be May 10.

Send us your bridal information

Want to share that "special day" with those who are unable to be present in person for your wedding ceremony? We'll write the details of your wedding in story form for you — and at no charge — if you'll simply follow a few guidelines.

The Belleville Enterprise and The Romulus Roman offer bridal questionnaires for you to fill out as well as engagement forms for announcing the "start of it all." These forms include all the pertinent questions involved with your marriage or betrothal.

Forms may be picked up at our office, 116 Fourth St., Belleville (we're in the old Township Hall, side entrance) anytime during the week between the hours of 9 a.m. and 4:30 p.m.

We will also mail forms if a telephone request is made. Call Lee Smith, Suburban Living Editor, at 697-9191.

Maturation preview held for area parents

Parents of all 5th and 6th grade students in the Van Buren School System were invited to attend a meeting on April 13 to preview the maturation materials that their children would be seeing in school with parents' permission.

The purpose of presenting this material is to help the boys and girls accept and understand the growth period between childhood and adulthood.

The 100 people attending the preview meeting found the school willing to share the responsibility of teaching maturation with the parents if they desire.

The comments at the close of the meeting were very positive and the request was made by several parents to also present maturation materials in the junior high schools.

Decision-making under stress

It is difficult to realize the magnitude of emotional and physical stress that persons confronted with the loss of a loved one must bear. After such a loss, people grieve.

They feel pain. They have been shocked out of their usual pattern of living. In mourning, they are faced with the need to assume responsibility for duties that may be foreign to them. Religious arrangements. Legal inquiries and actions. Financial responsibilities. Social duties to be assigned, accepted and performed. All these responsibilities fall on the bereaved actions which must be taken quickly, decisively.

An important example of the many matters to be attended to promptly is the funeral. Bearing in mind that the psychological value of the funeral is but one aspect of the many decisions to be made under stressful conditions. Caught up in the bewilderment of grief, the bereaved may be emotionally unable to arrange for a funeral wisely or effectively. They may yield to what they may feel is social pressure. At the same time, in their desire to show their love, they may proceed with arrangements costlier than would have been wished for by the deceased.

If the deceased, however, has made his wishes known in advance, decisions would have been wiser. This is one of the main reasons why pre-planning is a sensible procedure.

At the family table, with the discussion of these matters before everyone, each individual's wishes can be acknowledged and pursued before there is an actual need.

'Project Growth' -- designed for women

The Belleville Business and Professional Women's Club (BPW) is planning an opportunity for the women of Belleville and surrounding communities to explore current educational and employment opportunities.

"Project Growth" is to be held at 7:30 p.m. May 10 at the First United Methodist Church of Belleville located at 417 Church Street.

This is one of many projects sponsored by the BPW as part of their participation in the Bicentennial celebration. Women have made tremendous strides and contributions in our country over the past 200 years. This program is designed to enable the women of this area to continue in that tradition. They will be able to examine many avenues of expression for developing their potential as contributing persons to our society.

Those attending will have the opportunity to talk with women representing some 20 different occupations. Several educational institutions will send representatives to discuss their program for women.

Personnel from various institutions will include Patricia Wulp of the Continuing Education Center for Women of the University of Michigan; Betty Ostrander of Cleary College and Johanna Wirbel of Washtenaw Community College.

Ann Roddy of Kelly Services will be present to discuss opportunities for employment through its program in this vicinity. There will also be personnel from one of the area beauty colleges to discuss possibilities in the cosmetology field.

All women are invited to the program for which there is no charge.

West Eureka Study Group has meeting

The West Eureka Family Living Study Group recently met at the home of Martha Canter of New Boston. The meeting topic was "Weight Control Behavioral Patterns."

The group also discussed the upcoming Bicentennial-theme homemakers' banquet planned for May 20.

The group's next meeting will be at 7:30 p.m. May 12. Those interested in attending may call the Wayne County Extension office at 721-6550 for further details.

Bureau pushes millage

Following a decision by the Wayne County Board of Commissioners to build new jail facilities in downtown Detroit, a Speakers Bureau has been formed to help persuade voters to approve the cheapest method of financing the construction.

The commissioners have proposed a special tax levy of one-half mill (50 cents per $1,000 of state equalized valuation) which will appear as "Proposition A" on next month's presidential primary ballot.

It would cost the average household about $30 over a 5-year period, whereas the alternate plan of borrowing through long-term bonds would cost the same household about $90 over a 30-year period.

Participants in the Speakers Bureau are available from all areas of the county to explain other advantages and disadvantages of each plan, as well as the history of jail overcrowding and court orders which led to the commissioners' decision to build new facilities.

Included in the Speakers Bureau are representatives from labor, government, business and commerce and ethnic communities. Upon request, the speakers will make appearances before any group interested in learning details about the jail situation and its financial aspects.

"We hope that lots of organizations will take advantage of this service," said County Board Chairman John Barr. "It is important that people who will be voting in three weeks understand that we are going to build a new jail, one way or another, and that the best way is the cheapest way."

"I personally am appealing to all groups such as block clubs, church and fraternal organizations, or any community gathering to call us for explanation and discussion."

"Because it is a minor increase in taxes for a short period, I would hate to see people vote against 'Proposition A' without knowing that the other method is more expensive," he added.

To arrange for speaker services, interested individuals should contact Hardy or Carole Green at 224-0906.

Display opens at HHS

The artwork of students attending Huron High School in New Boston will be on display from 9 a.m. to 10 p.m. now through Friday at the high school, located at 22044 Huron River Drive.

The artwork includes ceramics, oil and water colors, pastels, photography and other art mediums. Some of the works are for sale.

Mothers honored

The Van Buren Convalescent Center will be hosting a special "Mothers Day" observance from 2-4 p.m. Sunday.

All area residents are invited to the open house, scheduled to be held at the convalescent center located on the I-94 South Service Drive just east of Belleville Road.

Featured as part of the open house will be a program and refreshments.

School sign up slated

The Romulus Community Schools will be conducting a Preschool Roundup for 3-, 4- and 5-year-old children during the week of May 24-28. The Roundup will be held at three sites in the district: the Head Start Center (old Cory School) at 7335 Washington Street, Merriman Elementary School at 15303 Merriman Road and Mt. Pleasant Elementary School at 39000 Superior St.

A departure from the traditional spring Roundup of five years, this program will involve more than the usual kindergarten registration. At the Roundup centers, each child will be involved in a screening process which includes a vision and hearing examination, speech evaluation, and preliminary assessment of developmental growth.

The purposes of the program are to locate all children who will be attending kindergarten next September, to locate children who may be eligible to attend Romulus Head Start next fall, and to insure early detection of possible problems in children that may interfere with their growth in school. Additionally, it will introduce parents to the many services of the school district and also provide them with needed assistance where necessary.

According to Marvin Fischer, assistant superintendent for curriculum and instruction, "the Preschool Roundup will enable the district to better serve the child's needs and will help us to plan more accurately for children who will be attending school in the next two to three years." He further indicated that the program is modeled after the successful screening program for 5-year-olds initiated at Harrison School and continued for two years at Cory School with assistance of the Parent-Teacher Organization.

Parents will receive more detailed information about the program through a letter from the superintendent of schools.

For additional information call Fischer at 941-1600.

Minister conducts meetings

Texas Cline R. Paden will be conducting a series of gospel meetings May 9 through May 14 at the Allen Park Church of Christ, which includes the Belleville community.

The theme of his lessons will be "The Lordship of Jesus," in which he will show that Jesus is Christ, the son of God, as proven by his death, burial and Resurrection.

The father of three children, he was a minister in Italy for 10 years and was declared "persona non grata" by the Italian government because of his court fights to obtain freedom of religion for all non-Catholics in Italy.

Paden will speak at 10 and 11 a.m. and at 6 p.m. on May 9, and twice daily, at 10 a.m. and 7:30 p.m. May 10-14.

The Allen Park Church of Christ is located at 23610 W. Outer Drive, about a half mile east of the Veteran's Hospital in Allen Park. Visitors are welcome to attend.

MR. AND MRS. ORVILLE TAYLOR

Reception marks 25th anniversary of Orville Taylors

Mr. and Mrs. Orville Taylor of Belleville recently observed their silver wedding anniversary at a party hosted by Mr. and Mrs. Robert Manning of Belleville (Mrs. Taylor's brother and sister-in-law.)

The PNA Lodge of Belleville was reserved for the March 28 celebration which some 100 relatives and friends attended. Six out-of-town guests helping to mark the special occasion were Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Manning, Wayne Manning, Henry Fox Jr., Mona Fox (all relatives) and a family friend, Sheila Mae Step, all of Dandridge, Tenn.

Included in the local guests were three nieces, Cynthia, Carrie and Carmen Kobish of Belleville.

Fellow workers from the Hydra-Matic Plant and the Fischer Body Plant (where the Taylors have worked for many years) were also on hand to congratulate the pair.

A buffet dinner complete with turkey and all the trimmings was served along with a special anniversary cake iced in pink and silver.

Entertainment for the party was provided by Chuck and Ed Boggs, friends of the honored couple.

CAPers do drills

Members of the Wayne - Romulus Squadron of the Civil Air Patrol will be brushing up on their drilling this month in anticipation of the Wing Drill Competition, to be held May 29.

The practicing is only part of the activities, past and present, for the organization.

The squadron's senior members, Bill Dubois and Sandra Dubois, both have made the rank of second lieutenant and have received their promotions.

Other activities included selection of the officer to attend the 1977 Long Range Field Trip at Disney World in Orlando, Fla. The squadron also is preparing for its summer encampment, which is part of the Civil Air Patrol's programming.

Heritage Fair prompts area Girl Scouts to 'look back'

"What would it have been like to be a Girl Scout in 1776?"

Ann Arbor Girl Scouts invited the 600 Girl Scout troops of the Huron Valley Girl Scout Council to find out at the Heritage Fair held May 1 at the Farm Council Grounds at 5095 Saline Road. The Fair was held to bring together Girl Scouts of all ages in an educational event focussing on their American tradition according to Fair Chairman Mrs. Nancy Krohn of Ann Arbor.

Scouts and their families attended a colonial schoolroom complete with horn books and spelling bees, played colonial games such as sack races and potato races, and did colonial crafts such as candlemaking, weaving and making dried apple and corn husk dolls. They also took lessons in colonial dances.

The Girl Scouts viewed special exhibits on a variety of aspects of colonial life such as frontier medicine, frontier foods, colonial groceries and colonial dolls. A Paul Revere play was given and winners of a doll contest, an essay contest and a poetry contest held among area Girl Scouts since the first of the year were announced during ceremonies.

One special exhibit showed Girl Scouts shearing sheep, spinning wool and weaving cloth. Colonial paper dolls designed by Margaret Cameron of Ann Arbor, and researched by Brownie troop No. 89 were sold. The day was climaxed by a special show at 3:30 p.m. which featured songs by a chorus of 200 Brownies, colonial dances by older Girl Scouts and a performance by the Girl Scout Band formed especially for this occasion. The traditional Girl Scout closing ceremony also was held.

Over 400 Girl Scouts participated in presenting the various activities of the Fair which received official designation as an Ann Arbor Bicentennial Event by the Ann Arbor Bicentennial Commission.

Cub Scouts and dads vie for baking honors

The April meeting of Cub Scout Pack No. 1071 took place at the First United Methodist Church of Belleville with a father and son cake baking contest as the highlight.

Winners for appearance were Danny Melik, Don Roullier and Steve Markle. Taking honors in the taste department were Mike Fletcher, Scott Darrow and Greg Sturtz. The cakes were later auctioned off to the parents attending.

Three boys receiving awards that same evening were Brett Olds, the wolf badge for Cub Scouts, and Don Roullier and Greg Sturtz, the engineer and naturalist badges, respectively, for Webelos.

Scouts collect honors pack

Several members of St. Anthony's Catholic Church Cub Scout Pack 793 have received awards for their accomplishments in Scouting during the past month.

Receiving awards from Cubmaster Dick Wilsey were Norman Ferrell, Bear badge and silver arrow, David Wood, silver arrow, Andy Winnie, denner cord and Michael Fleeman, assistant denner cord.

Webelos Scout Jimmy Monforton was presented with his artist and athlete activity badges by his father, Webelos leader Bob Monforton.

One new member, Donald Granlick Jr., and his father were welcomed to the pack at the regular meeting.

Scouts will be competing in a contest next month with their "genius kits" — bags of odds and ends. The scouts and their mothers are being encouraged to design something out of the contents of the kits.

Following the award presentations, the parents of the pack participated in their version of the traditional Pinewood Derby competition.

Margaret Bergeson won honors for having the best-looking car, but she finished second to husband Alton in the racing competition.

House's death benefit plan would aid widows, children

The U.S. House of Representatives has approved legislation, co-sponsored by Congressman William D. Ford (D-15th District), which would provide for a $50,000 lump-sum death benefit to the widows and children of police officers and fire fighters killed or fatally injured in the line of duty.

One bill, the Fire Fighters Benefits Act, covers both regular and volunteer firemen. The second, the Public Safety Officers Benefits Act, covers professional and volunteer policemen, correctional officers, prison guards, probation and parole workers, and anyone engaged in juvenile delinquency or narcotics control programs.

Congressman Ford has been fighting for adoption of such a benefits plan for several years, and was successful in having the legislation adopted in previous Congresses, but each time, Congress failed to act on conference reports.

"I am optimistic that we will succeed this year in enacting this long-overdue legislation into law," Congressman Ford said. "The bill makes benefits retroactive to October 11, 1972 — the date my legislation first passed the House." Congressman Ford emphasized that the $50,000 benefit should not be considered as a gift.

"It is an attempt by the federal government to compensate, in a small way, the families of public safety officers who have died trying to help us cope with the growing national problems of crime and fires," he added.

"I strongly believe that we have a moral obligation to those who have died trying to help us reach our national goal of safe streets and safe homes.

"We can't give back a husband or a father. We can only try to lessen the economic problems

May: Man's fancy turns to gardening

Spring is here, and in Western Wayne County, a young man's fancy is turning to thoughts of gardening. And for the month that traditionally brings spring flowers, the Michigan State University horticulturists have some suggestion on what to do.

The horticulturists suggest amateur gardeners:

— Prune spring flowering shrubs, like forsythia, immediately after blooming to remove weak, old or poorly placed branches. Retain the young, vigorous growth that will flower next year.

— In mid-May, control tent caterpillars on ornamentals with Sevin or Bacillus thuringiensis.

— Fertilize the lawn. Apply one-third of the total annual fertilizer now, a light application — one-half pound per 1,000 square feet — in late June and the rest around Labor Day.

— Make second and third sowings of beets, carrots, peas, radishes, spinach, lettuce and onions.

— Plant warm season vegetables after the danger of frost is past.

— Continue to spray fruit trees every 7 to 10 days to control insects and diseases.

— Plant dahlias, cannas and summer flowering bulbs through the end of the month. Plant gladioli now through the end of June for a continuous supply of cut flowers.

— Petunias, impatiens, begonias and other bedding plants may be planted outdoors after the frost-free date in the area.

Lawn & Garden

— Fertilize roses every two to three weeks and spray weekly with an all-purpose rose spray to control disease and insect problems.

— Apply summer mulches to flower borders and beds.

— Pinch the tips of chrysanthemums when the plants are six inches high and again when side branches are 6 inches long to produce bushy, compact plants.

— Plant tuberous begonias and caladiums outdoors in shaded areas.

— Cultivate the vegetable garden by chopping off weeds just under the soil surface. Deep cultivation injures crop roots and brings more weed seeds to the surface where they can germinate and grow.

— Inspect ornamentals, flowers and vegetables frequently so you can correct insect or disease problems before they get out of hand.

— Thin the fruit on peach and apple trees so individual fruits are about 8 inches apart. This should give you larger fruit and fewer insect and disease problems.

— Remove the May blossoms from everbearing strawberries for a better crop later.

— Stake tall plants that might be damaged by wind or rain if they are left unsupported.

— Pull up unwanted sucker growth around raspberries when the shoots are about a foot high.

— Set houseplants — except

African violets — outdoors when all danger of frost is past. Water thoroughly and put them in a semishady spot. Inspect houseplants frequently for insects.

— Harden vegetable transplants before setting them into the garden. Withholding water and exposing the plants to cool outdoor temperatures and sunshine during warm May days will harden the transplants.

— Plant new chrysanthemums and divide old ones.

— Fertilize spring flowering bulbs before, or during, bloom. Let the leaves of the bulbs brown and die before you remove them. They manufacture food for the bulb so it can bloom again next year.

— Plant dormant trees and shrubs early in the month.

— Water a new or renovated lawn as needed to get it established before hot weather.

Pick well adapted turfgrass when seeding a new lawn

Seeding a new lawn this spring? Then be sure to use turfgrass well adapted to Michigan.

Michigan State University (MSU) turfgrass specialists have evaluated more than 100 varieties of lawn grasses in the past 15 years, and for the home lawn, they advise planting a mixture of two or three Kentucky bluegrass varieties and two or three fine-leaved fescues.

"A mixture of several varieties is preferred over a lawn of only one cultivar because it minimizes disease problems," said Ken Payne, MSU professor of crop and soil sciences. "Different varieties of grass are susceptible or resistant to different lawn diseases."

"Some bluegrasses, for instance, are resistant to leafspot, but tend to be susceptible to fusarium blight, powdery mildew or other common lawn problems. Resistance to these diseases usually occurs in cultivars that are susceptible to leafspot.

"So your best bet is to use a blend of several varieties. If a disease strikes, the varieties resistant to that disease will maintain the good appearance of the lawn during the period of infection."

Grasses that are tolerant of heat and drought will "take over" for grasses that do not thrive under those conditions.

Improved Kentucky bluegrass varieties resistant to leafspot include Adelphi, A-34 — moderately susceptible to fusarium blight — Baron, Bonnieblue — good resistance to stripe smut — Fylking — very susceptible to fusarium blight and powdery mildew — Galaxy, Majestic, Merion — very susceptible to powdery mildew, rusts, fusarium blight and stripe smut — Nugget — susceptible to dollarspot and fusarium blight — and Pennstar — susceptible to fusarium blight.

Bluegrass varieties susceptible to leafspot include Cougar — excellent drought tolerance — Delta, Kenblue, Newport, Park and South Dakota Certified.

Sod vs. seeding: Pro, con

To most people, establishing a new lawn means either seeding or sodding. Which would be better for you? Turfgrass experts can point out advantages and disadvantages to each method.

Sodding is obviously the quicker way to a lush lawn. It's the closest thing to instant lawn this side of artificial turf. Sodding also is more expensive than seeding. A few pounds of grass seed cost much less than several thousand square feet of already grown grass.

Seeding offers a greater choice of variety. Sod usually is made up of Kentucky bluegrass cultivars. Bluegrass is good in sunny areas, but a lawn that gets both sun and shade needs a mixture of bluegrass and fine fescues. With seeding, you can tailor your seed mixture to suit the environment in your yard — sunny, shady, dry, moist. If you choose to sod, you have to use the species and cultivars your local sod suppliers grow.

Bells, cockle shells go red, white, blue

If Mistress Mary of nursery rhyme fame were gardening this year, she'd probably abandon her "silver bells and cockle shells" in favor of a red, white and blue display of Michigan-grown bedding plants.

Numerous combinations of annual flowers will produce the desired color scheme. Ideas for formal and informal arrangements of the patriotic colors are as close as your favorite seed catalog or garden supply store.

A flag, a liberty bell or even the Bicentennial star symbol may be recreated in flowers. Or, for a simpler project, fill a flower bed or border with bands of the three flag colors.

If you want a display that is about the same height throughout, choose one kind of flower in all three colors. Verbena, petunia and sweet alyssum are all available in red, white and blue varieties.

If your Bicentennial flower patch will back up against a fence or wall, use plants of three heights: tallest in the back, plants of medium height in the middle and shortest in the foreground. Tall red or white snapdragons might be used for the back row, with petunias in the center and sweet alyssum for the front row.

Red Zinnias, red salvia, white zinnias and blue ageratum also could be used.

If you're planting a flag, golden French or dwarf marigolds can be used to represent the flag pole.

You can grow most annuals from seed, but the easiest way to get masses of color in a hurry is to buy bedding plants for transplanting into the garden. Most annuals for transplanting are available in individual peat pots, trays of six or more plants, or flats. The best plants are short, bushy and compact, with healthy looking, dark green foliage.

Batman, Robin appear in Bunny Follies

Show Visitors Batman and Robin
Batman and Robin, the world's most famous crime fighters, will make a special personal appearance in the "Bugs Bunny Follies," a live 1 1/2-hour stage show, opening May 14 at Olympia for six performances through May 16.

The show will feature Bugs Bunny and a live costumed cast of the most famous Warner Bros. cartoon characters, including Porky Pig, Daffy Duck, Roadrunner and Tweety and Sylvester among others.

In the show Batman and Robin bound onto the stage to their familiar theme with lights flashing and sirens screaming they enlist the help of the audience to solve one of their "most perplexing" crimes. Robin has fallen under the spell of the infamous Dr. Danger, and only the boys and girls can save Robin from this menacing marauder.

Batman was born in 1937, one of the first of the new crimebusters and one of the most durable. According to his creator, Bob Kane, Batman is a combination of Zorro, Douglas Fairbanks Sr., The Scarlet Pimpernel, The Shadow, Sherlock Holmes and Houdini, rolled into one.

Batman maintains the secret identity of wealthy playboy Bruce Wayne. Dick Grayson, who secretly is Robin the Boy Wonder, was added a year after Batman first appeared.

In planning Robin's debut a plot was worked out to make him seem natural as Batman's aide. He needed acrobatic training so he was made an aerialist in the circus. His parents having been killed, Bruce Wayne became his guardian and thus the team was formed.

The combination surpassed the expectations of all. Almost 40 years later, the exploits of Batman and Robin are followed in comic books by approximately 50 million readers a year in the United States alone.

The stories are reprinted in 10 languages and distributed in more than 60 foreign countries.

Admission for the 4 p.m. show on May 14 is $2.50 all seats. Tickets for the 7:30 p.m. show on that day and the shows at 1:30 and 5 p.m. on Saturday and Sunday are priced at $4.50 reserved and $3 general admission. Children 14 years and under are admitted for $2.50 at all shows.

Tickets for the "Bugs Bunny Follies" are on sale at Olympia.

For more information call Olympia at 895-7000.

Ford makes plans official; Eyes 7th congressional term

Following his "sneak preview" announcement to supporters, Congressman William D. Ford (D-15th District) officially has announced he will seek re-election.

The 6-term Democrat from Western Wayne County said petitions are being circulated on his behalf to gain a spot on the 15th Congressional District's Aug. 3 primary.

A former justice of the peace and member of the Michigan State Senate, Congressman Ford has earned such posts as chairman of a Labor Committee subcommittee, regional whip for the State of Michigan and vice-chairman of the 130-member Conference of Great Lakes Congressmen by his longevity in the nation's highest legislative circles.

A resident of Taylor, Congressman Ford represents the communities of Ash Township, Belleville, Brownstown Township, Canton Township Carleton, Dearborn Heights, Flat Rock, Garden City, Gibraltar, Huron Township, Inkster, New Boston, Rockwood, Romulus, Southgate, Sumpter Township, Taylor, Van Buren Township, Wayne, Westland and Woodhaven along with a portion of Livonia.

Congressman Ford is a ranking member on the House Committees on Education and Labor and on Post Office and Civil Service.

Prior to being elected congressman to his first term in 1964, Ford was a member of the Michigan State Senate from 1962-64 and had served on the state's Constitutional Convention from 1961-62.

He began his political career by being elected Justice of the Peace in Taylor during the 1950s.

The Taylor congressman has achieved 100-percent voting records from four national organizations for his balloting during 1975.

Among those who rated Congressman Ford's votes 100 percent "correct" during the year were the Consumer Federation of America, the American Parents Committee, the National Education Association and the National Council of Senior Citizens.

In announcing his candidacy, Congressman Ford said: "Our nation today is suffering the effects of the Nixon-Ford economic policies of the past seven years. We are staggering under the burdens of inflation, unemployment and a growing crime rate."

"I look forward to the election of a Democratic president next November and I want to come back to Washington to help him get this nation back on the track to economic recovery."

"I want to continue the privilege of representing the 15th District in congress and to continue working for the programs that will help our nation achieve the goals of a stable economy, full employment and a peaceful world."

Gem, mineral show opens in Dearborn

The 1976 Dearborn Gem and Mineral Show, the second largest exhibit of its kind in Michigan, will be held May 15 and 16 in the Dearborn Youth Center, Michigan and Greenfield. The theme of this year's show is "Gems of Knowledge."

Hundreds of colorful displays of gem rocks, mineral and fossil collections, lapidary, silver work and stone carvings will be featured, together with interesting educational exhibits. Craftsmen will demonstrate gem stone cutting and polishing, gold and silver wire wrapping, stone carving and other facets of lapidary art.

Hobbyists throughout southern Michigan will display the results of their skills and dealers from many states will have booths offering a wide assortment of supplies, materials and equipment used in lapidary work.

Sponsor of the two-day annual event is the Mid - West Mineralogical and Lapidary Society of Dearborn. The show will be open from 10 a.m. to 10 p.m. Saturday, May 15, and 10 a.m. to 5:30 p.m. May 16. Donations are $1 for adults and 50 cents for teen-agers 13 to 17. Children under 13, when accompanied by adults, will be admitted without charge.

The society has a membership of nearly 200, including residents of Dearborn, Detroit and nearby suburbs.

Davenport becomes editor of Wyandotte News-Herald

Don Davenport, widely recognized Southeastern Michigan newsman who has served on Mellus Newspapers in the Downriver area for the past six years, has been appointed editor of the News-Herald Newspapers based in Wyandotte.

The appointment was announced today by News-Herald General Manager Robert Bradshaw. Davenport succeeds Max Gates, who resigned.

Bradshaw was joined by Martin Heim, Southeastern Michigan Group vice-president of Panax Newspapers, which publishes the News-Herald, in expressing satisfaction at Davenport's promotion.

"It is another step," they said, "in Panax' and the News-Herald's program of improving our news product, both in local news content and participation and in broadening the perspective and the scope of the information we gather for our readers."

Davenport is no stranger to Wyandotte or the Downriver area. He has been a resident of Wyandotte since 1971 and is a member of the American Legion's post 217 there. He is a former Legion district commander.

The new editor, 49, was on the staff of the Flat Rock Guardian briefly in 1970 before joining the Mellus staff. Prior to that he was state public relations director for the American Legion for four years in which post he won several national Legion public relations awards.

He spent 12 years on the staff of radio station WXYZ as a writer, producer, production manager and public service director, and before that was a sound effects specialist for the nationally popular Green Hornet, at WXYZ in Detroit during their heyday.

A graduate of Southeastern High School in Detroit, Davenport majored in communications at Wayne State University. He enlisted in the Marines as a radio operator following World War II service in the Army and recently retired from the Michigan National Guard as a captain after 20 years service.

$2 million savings predicted

Study supports move to build new jail

A new Wayne County jail facility will save the taxpayers at least $2 million a year in operating costs compared with a competing proposal to renovate a downtown warehouse, according to a Detroit Police Department study.

Results of the study were released by Police Chief Philip G. Tannian who announced his support of a jail construction millage proposal which will be on the May 18 presidential primary election ballot.

The Greater Detroit Chamber of Commerce also announced its support of the millage proposal. Michigan Blue Cross-Blue Shield President John C. McCabe, who made the announcement, noted the millage would cost the average homeowner "only $6 per year for five years—the cost of two soft drinks a month."

The ballot proposal calls for a special property assessment of one-half a mill (50 cents per $1,000 of state equalized valuation) for five years. It would raise $35 million for building and operation of the additional detention facility. The construction cost is estimated at $20.6 million.

Tannian said the $2 million annual savings will result because the new detention facility will require 96 fewer guards than would the warehouse conversion which was proposed by a group of private investors.

The county Board of Commissioners April 21 voted 19-0 in favor of the new construction after Sheriff William Lucas reported a similar difference in staffing requirements between the two alternatives.

The new jail facility would add 400 cells to the present downtown jail capacity of 720 which is the inmate population limit set by the courts for the present Clinton St. jail.

John Barr (D-Dearborn Heights), chairman of the county Board of Commissioners, said the additional jail capacity must be provided and that the "only real question" is how it will be financed.

"This millage gives the voters the opportunity to finance the construction at minimum cost. If the millage fails, the county will have to borrow money through a bond issue. Interest charges will double or triple the cost, and public services will have to be cut in order to make loan payments from existing revenues," he said.

Police Chief Tannian said his department reviewed the Sheriff's analysis of the staffing requirements of the two facilities and agreed with the findings that the new jail would require 281 guards, while the warehouse would require 377.

The Police Department report also backed the Sheriff in faulting the warehouse proposal for structural limitations.

"Large concrete columns located throughout the warehouse will interfere with staff observation of certain inmate activity areas," the report declared.

Tannian said the new construction also is preferable because it would be closer to the existing jail, police and court facilities, would eliminate the need for construction of a long tunnel and would be designed for future expansion, if needed.

The county already has acquired from the City of Detroit the old Recorder's Court as the site for the additional jail facilities.

In addition to the Chamber of Commerce, organizations and individuals who have announced support of the millage to date include the Central Business District Association, New Detroit Inc., Dearborn Mayor Orville L. Hubbard and a number of labor unions and civic groups.

Hines Drive bicycling days return with Saturday start

The popular "Hines Drive Bike Days" again will be held this year.

The bike days program, initiated three years ago by State Rep. John D. Markes (D-Westland), has attracted an increasing number of bicycling enthusiasts each year from Western Wayne County, especially from the communities of Livonia, Wayne, Westland, Dearborn Heights.

According to Markes, arrangements with the Wayne County Road Commission and the Wayne County Board of Commissioners to again set aside four days for pedaling pleasure are complete.

Markes added that Hines Drive will be closed to motorized traffic for the 11-mile stretch between Ford and Haggerty roads from 8:30 a.m. to 4 p.m. on the biking days.

The four Saturdays set aside are this Saturday, June 12, Sept. 11 and Oct. 9.

"The local governments of Livonia, Westland, Dearborn Heights and Plymouth Township have joined in the effort to make the event a safe bicycling activity we can all enjoy," Markes said.

The Wayne County Sheriff's Road Patrol Division, with assistance from local police departments, will provide the necessary manpower for the event, Markes continued.

"All bicycling enthusiasts are invited to participate," the representative said. "And those transporting their bicycles to the area will find ample parking west of Newburgh Road and at Warren Road.

Check the cleanliness of all your car's windows every time you start out—as a safety measure, if not for appearance's sake. Plain dirt is easy enough to remove with water or a household glass cleaner. For more stubborn spots, including bug splatters, you can purchase a commercial automobile window cleaner. On a long trip, it is wise to take along a container of the fluid, plus clean rags, or paper towels, for on the road cleaning. Vinyl upholstery contains some substances that may vaporize and form a film on interior glass surfaces. Remove with white vinegar diluted with an equal amount of water. You can keep your foreign car running efficiently and looking like new with parts and accessories from KOSIN'S AUTO PARTS, 26831 Michigan, Inkster. We specialize in all kinds of parts for Datsun, Toyota, Fiat, Opel, Volkswagen, and other foreign makes as well as a full line of parts for domestic cars. We also stock all kinds of tools and testing equipment. Visit our machine shop for expert repair work including turning brake drums, grinding valves and rebuilding engines. You can depend on our knowledgeable staff for fast, friendly and competent counter service. Call us at 563-3894. We are open daily from 8 A.M. until 8 P.M. and on Saturdays until 5 P.M.

Glenn's crown placed in jeopardy

By TOM MOORADIAN
Sports Editor

Unbeaten Westland John Glenn and Ypsilanti aren't scheduled this year to meet in dual meet competition, but the two area track powers will get a good glimpse at one another Saturday at the Second Annual Wayne Memorial Invitational.

Glenn captured the inaugural title a year ago and Coach Barry Basel's Rockets have enough of the horses saddled to make a run for it when the field gathers at 10 a.m.

Nineteen teams have accepted Wayne's invitation to compete and joining the hosts and the co-favorites will be Adrian, Belleville, Fordson, Dearborn Heights Annapolis, Allen Park, Taylor Center, Taylor Truman, Northville, Plymouth Salem, Plymouth Canton, Livonia Bentley, Franklin, Cherry Hill, Garden City West and Garden City East.

"Some of the best athletes in the state will be here for this one," said Wayne Coach Ernie Righetti. "We're expecting some outstanding performances."

The preliminaries for the 16-event program gets underway at 10 a.m. The finals will be staged at 1 p.m. The program will include five field events: shot put, discus, pole vault, high jump and long jump; three open events — the 100-yard dash, high hurdles and 2-mile run and also eight other relays.

Medals will be awarded to the top three finishers in each event, including the relays.

There is a $1 and 50 cents charge for adults and students, respectively.

Meanwhile, John Glenn finished third at the Waldo Washley Relays hosted by Waterford Mott. The Westlanders garnered 31 points, trailing champ Birmingham Groves (67) and Pontiac Central (50) in the final standings.

Glenn's sprint relay team of Dave Johnson, Terry Bixler, Frank Deluca and Jeff Couturier earned a gold medal when it finished with an excellent 2:37.3 performance.

The Westlanders also had a second place in the middle distance medley of Johnson, Couturier, Fred Shoemaker and Kelly Frost who turned in a 5:50.6 clocking.

Couturier, Johnson, Frost and Ted Unold posted a 3:30.8 in winding up third for the mile relay and Bill Robinson, Bill McCusker, Jim Barber and Curt Cretal also finished third in the four-mile relay (19:01.8).

Unold broke the school record in the 2-mile as he covered the distance in an impressive 9:29.6. Unfortunately he had to settle for a third place as Brother Rice's Ken Manza won the event in 9:25.9. Second place went to Birmingham Groves' Washburn who posted a 9:25.9.

"I felt we did as well as we could in a very tough field," said Basel. "There were 15 teams and most of them are really stocked with fine athletes."

It's crucial week for Franklin '9

Does Livonia Franklin have the makings of a baseball championship team?

This could be the week that that question is answered.

"It's a crucial week for us," said Coach Ron Hellier whose Patriots were scheduled to meet undefeated Garden City East on Monday. "We're 2-1 in the league and East has a 3-0 record, so we have to beat them to stay up there."

"Also, we have to face Thurston (Wednesday) and North Farmington (Friday)," Hellier continued, "therefore, at the end of the week we should know pretty well where we stand."

Franklin padded its record to 2-1 last Friday at the expense of Westland John Glenn as Al Castrodale chalked up his third consecutive pitching victory.

The righthanded Franklin senior hurler notched two strikeouts, walked three in pitching a five-hitter.

Glenn's Jeff Ludwig went the distance for the Rockets and was charged with the loss. He fanned two, walked four in a eight-hitter.

Glenn took a 1-0 first inning lead as Eric Borsvold singled and moved to second on Kevin Sanders' bunt single. A double play moved Borsvold to third and he was chased home on Mike Bednarski's base hit.

Franklin tied it up in the bottom of the third thanks to a walk to Dan Pederson who moved to second on Castrodale's single. Pederson scored when Ken Scarpace drilled a single up the middle.

The Livonians made it a 3-1 ball game in the fourth as Darrel Gunter hammered a triple, scoring Steve Tresik, who had singled, from third. Pederson singled home Gunter. They widened their margin by two more runs in the next inning when Jerry Pollard, Tim Hollandsworth and Tresik singled.

Glenn rallied for a run in the seventh. With two down, Todd Deluca walked, moved to second when Dan Diadiun was safe on an error, then Borsvold singled home Deluca. However, Castrodale got Sanders on a fly ball, ending the game.

Franklin jolted seventh-ranked Class A power Plymouth Canton 4-2 in the first of two games scheduled last Saturday. (The nightcap was rained out.)

The Patriots struck for four runs in the second inning and made them stand up for the victory. Calvin Beer pitched 5 and one-third innings to get credit for the win. He whiffed five and walked five, giving up one of the two Canton hits.

Canton scored once in the sixth and added another in the seventh. In that key Franklin second, triples by Tim Hollandsworth and Tresik produced the first run, then Gunter's single drove home Tresik. Pederson latched on to Morman's pitch for his first hit of the game and, with runners on first and second, Bill Longeway singled.

Franklin then pulled off a double steal, scoring what proved to be their final run of the game.

Tresik is setting a torrid pace at the plate as he has knocked the ball around at a .607 clip, (17 of 28). He has driven home eight runs and picked up a pair of doubles and triples.

Hollandsworth also is wielding a hot bat. With three home runs, a triple and 8 RBI's, the Franklin senior has a .538 batting average.

Glenn earlier in the week dropped a 5-1 decision to North Farmington as the Rockets continue to seekout their first conference win of the season.

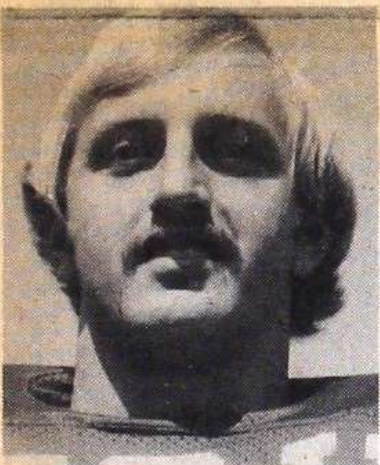

Terry Butler, relieved by Jeff Hodgkins after 3 and one-third innings, was charged with the loss.

Glenn averted the shutout in the fifth when Borsvold doubled and scored when Sanders' grounder was muffed.

"It's been a very frustrating week for us," noted Glenn's Norm Hoenes. "We're playing pretty decent ball but not winning - that's why it's so frustrating."

"I think we can pinpoint our problems to the fact that we're not hitting in the clutch," Hoenes added.

KEITH ANLEITNER

Anleitner to co-captain WSU gridders

Keith Anleitner, former All-Area griddler, was named this week as co-captain of Wayne State University's 1976 football team.

Anleitner will share the responsibilities with Mike Stankovich of Warren Centerline.

A 6-foot, 183-pound, 20-year-old defensive specialist, Anleitner is a potential College Division All-American linebacker. He's led the Tartars in tackles in each of his three seasons, even though he was not a starter until the fifth game of his freshman year and missed some time with a shoulder injury last year.

Keith, coached by Gary Humphrey while at Garden City East High, was a unanimous First Team All-GLIAC selection.

DENNIS EASLEY

Lake Superior State College will have the services this fall of one of the top cagers in the area.

Dennis Easley, a 6-foot, 1 inch 170-pound Belleville High forward, has signed a national letter of intent to attend that college.

Easley lettered three years in basketball at Belleville High School where he was named to the 1976 all-state honorable mention list, the Suburban Eight all-conference team and to the All-Area all-star squad.

He scored a combined total of 820 points during his senior and junior seasons at Belleville, including 435 for a 21.0 average during his recently completed senior year.

"Dennis has excellent basketball skills," said LSSC head basketball mentor Ed Douma. "He jumps well, shoots well, and is a good inside player for a guard.

"We feel," said Douma, "that Dennis will have an excellent chance of contributing to the success of the team next season."

In addition to his basketball skills, Easley was also skillful in the classroom where he compiled a 3.4

grade point average.

Easley will be joining a Laker basketball squad next season that enjoyed its finest season in history during the 1975-76 campaign. The LSSC squad posted their best ever 27-4 record, earned a share of the Great Lakes Intercollegiate Athletic Conference title.

Romulus' Smith eyes Olympics

Bradley (Brad) Smith, former Michigan state champion and National AAU champion from Romulus Senior High, won wrestling All-America honors during the past season as a sophomore at the University of Toledo.

Smith finished fourth at 142 pounds in the NCAA national championship tournament held at Tucson, Arizona, to become Toledo's 12th wrestling All-America since the sport began at UT in 1952. (The top six wrestlers in each college division win automatic All-America honors).

Brad's NCAA performance, in which he won four of six matches and missed gaining the championship final match by a referee's decision in overtime, came as no surprise to Rocket coach Harvey Bowles.

Bowles was well aware of Smith's talents after Brad completed a record of 144-17-2 at Romulus Senior High. He was twice all-state, a second team high school All-American, team captain, and most valuable wrestler on his team. Additionally, Smith toured Russia the summer prior to his freshman season at Toledo as a member of a United States wrestling team.

"Brad has had the tournament experience at both the state and international level that the national championship scene didn't bother him at all," Bowles said after Smith's stellar performance at Tucson. "What's more, I predict he'll be a national champion before he's through."

Smith paced Toledo's team the past season with a record of 14-4. He was 20-2 as a freshman, giving him an aggregate collegiate mark of 34-6 with two years of competition remaining.

Smith, a physical education major, is the son of Vergil and Mary Jane Smith of 36627 Goddard in Romulus. He has 10 brothers and sisters, and one of his brothers, Vergil, Jr., is an important member of a fine Toledo baseball team as well as a varsity wrestler.

Brother Vergil compiled a record of 13-8-2 during the past season, wrestling at three different weights. Baseball coach Stan Sanders has called him one of the most spirited athletes responsible for the resurrection of the diamond sport at Toledo. The Rockets are seeking their fourth straight season of 20 or more wins. Smith is an infielder and base running specialist.

Belleville Relays rescheduled

Inclement weather leads to 24-hour delay

Because of the inclement weather, the 17th running of the Western Wayne-Belleville Relays has been rescheduled from its traditional Tuesday to Wednesday night.

"I have been in contact with the weather bureau," said Harry Hidenfelter, Belleville High athletic director, "and they said that there would not be a noticeable change in the cold weather.

"Therefore, after consulting with all of the coaches involved, we agreed to stage the relays tonight (Wednesday)," Hidenfelter added.

Westland John Glenn, the defending champ, will place its title on the block and many of the prognosticators feel that Livonia Churchill will snatch it up.

"Churchill and Glenn will be fighting it out for first place again,"

Hidenfelter stressed. "The two teams have been beating most of the teams in the area."

This year's field will also include Cherry Hill, Garden City East, Garden City West, Livonia Bentley, Livonia Franklin, Dearborn Heights Robichaud, Taylor Center, Taylor Kennedy, Taylor Truman, and Inkster.

Medals will be awarded to the event winners. The next four places will be presented ribbons.

Competition will get underway at 3:30 p.m. with the field events, followed by the running events.

Meanwhile, Belleville trampled Redford Union 69-50 en route to its second Suburban 8 Conference victory. Coach Dave Medley's thincads established two school records in taking eight of the 16 first places.

One of the events fell to Mike Blazer who cleared the high hurdles in an impressive 14.6, leading a Belleville sweep of the event. Teammates Fred Jordan and Al Russell finished second and third, respectively.

Blazer was a double winner when he hit the low hurdles' finish line in 20.8.

Though he finished second to Redford Union's LaLonde, Belleville's Don Lewis owns the school record for the 100-yard dash. He was clocked in a fast 10.1 for the event. LaLonde's winning time was 9.9.

Franklin runs 3rd in track

Taking seven of the 14 events, Livonia Stevenson outdistanced city rivals Churchill and Franklin in a triangular girls' track and field meet last week.

The Spartans compiled a 63 point victory over Churchill, which finished second with 47 points. Franklin was third with 35.

Franklin's Margaret Christner was her team's lone double winner as she tossed the discus 96 feet, 2 inches and also twirled the shot 34 feet, 10 inches.

DARYL GOODEN

Pretty good

Ex-Romulus track and wrestling star, Daryl Gooden, who keeps breaking his own shot put record, did it again in the Hillsdale Relays.

The Grand Valley State College sophomore tossed the "iron" 51 feet, 8 1/2 inches for a new meet and GVSC mark last week.

Tops in Tri-City Bowling

Flashing smiles and trophies are (left to right) Sandy Kubik, Angie Raymo, Joan Watson and Mae Lackey. Miss Kubik and Raymo captured the Tri-City's 23rd annual Tournament doubles' title with 1390 pins with handicap while Miss Kubik also won the All-Events with a score of 2027 with handicap. Watson was the singles winner with a score of 729 with handicap. Lackey posted the high game of 266 for the tournament which also stood up as the high game for the tournament with handicap.

Spartan thinclads clear league title obstacle

Joe Grasley can breathe easier now. Cherry Hill's track team made certain of that last week as the Spartans presented their coach with key victories over Garden City West and Dearborn Fordson.

The 81-51 triumph over West also could be the key to Cherry Hill's second consecutive Tri-River Conference title. The win over Fordson squelched any Tractor hopes of retaliation for last year's setback which cost the Dearbornites a 31-meet winning streak.

Cherry Hill put down their nonleague Dearborn rivals, 73-59. The victory was the fifth in a string this season. The Spartans are 3-0 on the conference year, with Crestwood coming up today at 4 p.m.

"I felt the team responded very well for the difficult week we had," said Grasley. "And our success was the result of our depth."

Grasley noted that "in the West meet all of the boys did a good job," and he singled out Coughenour (Bill) and Johnson (Bill) as being exceptional.

Coughenour contributed three first places against the highly-regarded West contingent. He won the discus, shot put and also the 220-yard dash, while Johnson upset Ron Havener in the 440-yard dash.

Meet results: Cherry Hill 81, Garden City West 51.

Elliott Scholarship recipient is named

Don Gotham, a versatile athlete-scholar, was named this week as the recipient of the inaugural Bill Elliott Memorial Scholarship.

The announcement was made by Bill Hawley, Wayne Memorial athletic director.

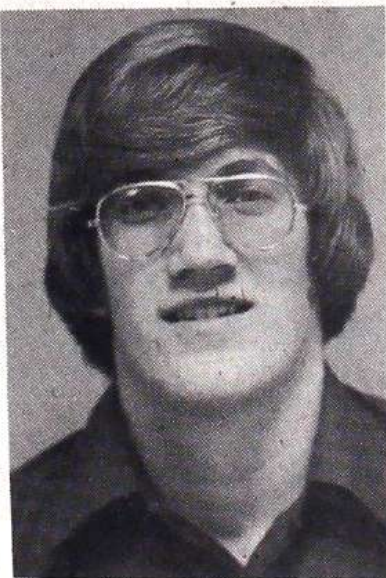

"Don has shown those qualities in athletics and in the classroom that are exemplary of the ideals that Mr. Elliott tried to instill in all of us," said Hawley. "We are pleased and honored to name him as the initial recipient of the Elliott Scholarship."

Mr. Elliott was a veteran educator in the Wayne-Westland School District before succumbing to a cerebral hemorrhage in January. He was Wayne Memorial's athletic director at the time of his death.

Gotham has earned three letters in varsity track and two in basketball. He was named to the All-Area Football team last fall and also given a football scholarship to Wayne State University.

Don has maintained a 3.0 scholastic (out of a 4.0) average during his three years at Wayne High.

The Elliott Scholarship, a perpetual one, was made possible out of contributions from Bill's friends and admirers.

Wayne is easy winner

Wayne runners made it two out of three in the Great Lakes Conference by obliterating Wyandotte 113-19 last week.

Coach Ernie Richetti's Zebras swept 15 of the 16 events.

"We ran very well in this one," Richetti said. "We received some added help from Reges (Roy) in the quarter-mile and Preston (Rick) posted a lifetime best in the low hurdles."

Reges, sidelined with a broken collar bone earlier in the campaign, ran a 54 seconds flat to win the 440, while Preston's time for the lows was a 20.4, second to that of teammate Brett Hansen who won in 19.7.

Hansen also finished first in the highs with a 14.9 surge. Wayne will be out to fatten its record today at 4 p.m. at the expense of Lincoln Park.

Meet results: Wayne Memorial 113, Wyandotte 19

Cherry Hill '9' giving title contenders 'fits' in Tri-River

Ken Mientkiewicz wasn't counting on his Spartans in being in the midst of any Tri-River Conference baseball title struggle, but, after four games, the league coaches aren't counting Cherry Hill out.

Springing on Crestwood 7-5 on Friday, Mientkiewicz' Spartans evened up their league record at 2-2. They lost a nail-biting 5-4 decision to Taylor Kennedy, the defending champ, and made Garden City West sweat before yielding 3-2 in nine innings.

"We have been doing things right," said Mientkiewicz, who's in his first year as head coach. "Lipinski (Mark) came up with a sore arm against West and that botched up our pitching rotation, so we had to make several adjustments to correct the situation."

A pair of singles, a throwing error led to West's decisive run in the ninth. It also paved the way for pitcher Jim Harrison's second loss of the campaign. The righthanded senior struck out five and walked two in throwing a 3-hitter.

West scored in the opening inning, but Cherry Hill replied with a pair of runs in the top of the second as Tim Rollins led off with a walk. He advanced to second when Jim Poole also walked Mike Nyehuis. A wild pitch moved up both runners then, after two were out, Mark Lipinski sliced a two-run single.

Garden City tied it up in the fifth, setting the stage for the extra inning affair.

The Spartans have a busy week in front of them. They'll meet Schafer and Melvindale on Wednesday and Friday, respectively. Their Monday game with Schafer was called because of inclement weather.

Against Kennedy, Cherry Hill leaped to a 4-0 lead after two innings, but the defending champs cut away at the Spartan bulge with single runs in the third, sixth and seventh and two runs in the fourth inning.

Chuck Sosnowski went the distance for the losers, twirling a nine-hitter. HME struck out five and walked four.

Lipinski again started the rally in the first when he drew a base on balls. Bryan Funke also walked and, with one away, Mark Barrons came through with a one-run single. Tim Rollins' single drove in the second run and an interference call against the Kennedy catcher allowed Barrons to score from third.

Cherry Hill tilted the scoreboard for its final run of the game in the second when Lipinski connected for a single to lead off the inning, then stole second, advanced to third on an error and raced home on a ground out.

The Spartans rallied for four runs in the sixth and one in the seventh to put down Crestwood. Starting pitcher Bill Pavlak lasted two-thirds of an innings, giving way to Harrison who finished up.

Harrison received credit for the victory, scattering three hits the rest of the way. He notched six strikeouts and walked three.

Losing pitcher Paul Chambers was tagged for seven hits. He got in trouble in the third when Lipinski belted a single and was chased home on Funke's triple. A wild pitch scored Funke.

The Spartans turned the game around with a four-run sixth. Brian Shuster got aboard when he was hit by a wild pitch, moved to second when Sosnowski walked. Lipinski singled in one run, then Harrison drew a base on balls.

With the bases loaded, Crestwood's infield muffed a grounder, scoring two more runs. The Spartans went ahead on a sacrifice fly ball.

Cherry Hill added to its one-run cushion with a seventh inning score that was produced by Sosnowski's single which brought home Rick Rimmel.

Caesar's drafts 2 players

Two Romulus girls have broken into the lineup of Little Caesar's softball team.

Dianne Nairemore and Cindy Crawford will be playing for the Wyandotte-based team which will launch its season on May 15.

On that day the Little Caesar's ball club will travel to Toledo for the annual women's softball invitational. The team, which has made it to the World Series twice and to in West Virginia, is coached by Tom Lockfelt.

Northwest powers head for showdown

Whether Westland John Glenn can repeat as the Northwest Suburban Conference track champ will depend a lot on how Coach Barry Basel's Rockets handle once-defeated Livonia Franklin.

Franklin, undefeated in the league and loser to only nonleague city rival, Churchill, this season, is eyeing the lofty perch that Glenn has occupied for the past year.

The two Northwest Suburban track powers will clash May 13 at the Westland high school field and the collision should produce the next conference champ.

"We're going to have to be ready for them," said Bob Holmes, Franklin's head coach. "They definitely are the team in the league to beat."

Franklin, resting in the league this week but making appearances at the Belleville Relays as well as the Wayne Invitational (Saturday), crushed North Farmington 105-27 in its latest league outing.

Holmes' Patriots swept 14 of the 16 first place including all three relays.

Meanwhile, Glenn, which awaits North, crushed Thurston 93-39 to remain unbeaten in dual meet competition on the season.

Meet results: Westland John Glenn 93, Thurston 39

Wayne, Glenn paired in district playoffs

Westland John Glenn and Wayne Memorial, natural athletic rivals in the Wayne-Westland School District, will meet in the pre-district baseball tournament held at Belleville High School later this month.

The pairings were announced Monday by Harry Hidenfelter, Belleville High Athletic Director. The two rivals will meet at noon, May 29.

Churchill, which drew a first round bye, will take on the winner of the Belleville and Adrian game. Belleville is presently sporting an 0-5 record while Adrian is 6-4 on the season.

Wayne gals running like track champs

If you haven't noticed, then take notice: Wayne Memorial girls' track team has the look of a champion.

Winners of three of their four meets this season, Coach Floyd Carter's tracksters have looked impressive all year. They turned back Monroe 82-22, beat Taylor Truman 84-27 and crushed Garden City West 88-33.

Wayne's lone loss was an out-of-league affair, 66-48, to arch-rival, Westland John Glenn.

"I feel we have some of the top athletes in the state," said Carter. "If we're going to win the league title we're going to have to stop Lincoln Park and Fordson."

Lisa Nibert can back up Carter's words about the Zebras looking for state recognition. Miss Nibert, a sophomore, cleared 5 feet, 7 inches in the high jump and that performance is one-quarter of an inch off the winning performance in the state of a year ago.

Miss Nibert's effort also is a Great Lakes 8 Conference and school record.

Wayne has other standouts: Debbie Berry, a junior specializes in the 220 (27.2) and long jump (17'19") and also competed in the 100-yard dash; Ann Swires holds school record in the 880 (2:31.0) and 100-yard dash (11.8) while Colleen O'Brien is a top notch quarter-mile (65.5).

Shot putter Diane Kasper is one of the leading performers in the event. The once-defeated Miss Kasper has tossed the shot 33 feet, 6 inches.

Sophomore Cathy Weyand also is an excellent prospect in the two-mile. She's been clocked in 13:31.0 and is unbeaten in the event.

Kandy Hughes runs a 6:16 mile

In other qualifying rounds, set for May 17 through 21, Monroe and Ann Arbor Huron will have to decide which will advance to play Bedford in the pre-district while Romulus, 2-8 on the year, will face Ypsilanti, a 6-4 team for the dubious honor of playing Ann Arbor Pioneer.

Pioneer carried an enviable 8-0 record into this week's action.

The finals at Belleville High are set for Sat., June 5. The games are slated for 10 a.m. and noon with the two winners returning to the diamond at 2 p.m. to decide the District 4 championship.

while Jill Shackelford has been counting the points in the low hurdles. She has covered the distance and obstacles in a respectable 16.3.

Meanwhile, Livonia Franklin turned back North Farmington 92-22 in a Northwest Suburban Conference track meet. Margaret Christner was again a double winner for the Livonians as she had a put of 35 feet, 8 1/2 inches and a toss of 85 feet, 8 1/2 inches in the discus.

LeAnn Horie also posted a double victory, claiming the half-mile run in 2:43.5 while winning the 440-yard run in 68.3.

Cage camp seeking all-staters

The third annual Bob Lanier-Dick Vitale All-Star Basketball Day Camp has been scheduled for this summer.

The camp, co-directed by the superstar of the Detroit Pistons and the head coach of the University of Detroit, will be held at West Bloomfield High School. There will be two sessions, June 14-18 and June 21-25.

All youngsters ages 10-18 are invited and fees are $75 for one week and $135 for two weeks. Daily workouts are from 9:30 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. The registration fee, of which a $25 deposit is required in advance, includes a camp shirt, insurance, awards (trophies to be awarded in several categories) and soft drinks.

Instruction will be by Lanier; Vitale; U-D assistants Dave Gaines and Mike Brunner; West Bloomfield coach Tim Domke; and several outstanding prep coaches from the area. Lanier and Vitale will be present for all sessions of the camp.

This camp has been sold out during each of its first two years, and registrations are nearing that level again this year. For registration information, write Bob Lanier Dick Vitale All-Star Basketball Day Camp, 5264 N. Peblecreek, West Bloomfield, Michigan 48033 or call 626-4733.

Weather victim

The key Northwest Suburban Conference baseball game between Garden City East, the defending champ, and challenger, Livonia Franklin was called off Monday because of the unseasonal cold weather. Franklin Coach

Ron Hellier said that the two teams will fit the game into their schedule later this month. All prep sports activities came to an abrupt halt on Monday because of the near freezing temperatures.

Tickets still available for sandlot benefit game

It will be a single game between the Tigers and the Cincinnati Reds, but the annual Sandlot Benefit Exhibition at Tiger Stadium, at 7:00 p.m., Monday, May 10, is turning out to be a sort of triple-header for the fans:

They will be able to:

1 - See the revitalized Tigers matched with the World Champion Reds, whose lineup includes such stars as Johnny Bench, Pete Rose, Joe Morgan, Tony Perez and others.
2 - Help the sponsoring Michigan Recreation and Parks Association honor six figures prominent in amateur baseball.

3 - Contribute to the more than $100,000 which the exhibition will raise for the kids in amateur baseball in the Michigan-Ohio-Ontario area.

The Tigers and Reds have been meeting since 1974 in a home-and-home series aiding kid baseball in their two areas and the Tigers currently hold a 4-1 edge in the series, winning four straight before dropping a 4-3 decision at acin-cinnati April 29.

But the baseball, exciting as it has been, is somewhat incidental to the purpose of the series — which in the last six games at Tiger Stadium has raised more than a half-million dollars for the kids.

Tickets for this year's game are being sold all over the area by amateur baseball organizations of various kinds and a limited supply still is available at Tiger Stadium. Regular prices prevail at $4.50 for box seats, $3.50 for reserved, $2.50 for general admission and $1.50 for bleachers.

U of D sets sports injury clinic date

The University of Detroit Sports Medical Clinic will be held Sat., July 31 at the U of D Memorial Building. Coaches, student trainers and physical education persons at all levels are invited to attend the informative discussion.

The clinic staff is made up of Jack Moores, Jr., head trainer, U of D; Lindsay McLean, head trainer, University of Michigan and Dan Minert, head trainer, Brighton area schools.

Registration by July 25 will cost $15; at the door, $20. Send checks payable to the University of Detroit, Sports Medicine Clinic, 4001 W. McNichols, Detroit, 48221.

The Tigers and the Reds pay their own expenses to make all of the gate receipts available to the kids.

The amateur baseball leaders to be honored in pre-game ceremonies include:

Marshall Bishop — Sponsor of teams in Flint the past 14 years, including a 1975 national championship club.

C. King Boring — Player, manager and sponsor in Dearborn amateur baseball since 1925; former major league scout; member of Dearborn Hall of Fame.

Eugene Holms — Veteran of 36 years as player, coach, manager and sponsor of Detroit teams.

Herbert E. Kipke — Longtime director of recreation in Lansing, soon to retire from Central Michigan University faculty.

Frank Saunders — Player, coach and promoter for 40 years; strong advocate of amateur baseball as sports columnist for the Michigan Chronicle last 22 years.

Ken Williams — Sports writer at Detroit News 36 years, noted for support and promotion of amateur baseball and youths in other sports.

Bill Bruton, former Tiger outfielder, is general chairman of the sandlot benefit for the third straight year, with Peter Harlow, Detroit, and Luther Holt, Highland Park, co-chairmen of the steering committee.

WYAA launches season

With Westland Mayor Tom Taylor throwing out the first ball, the Westland Youth Athletic Association will launch the 1976 baseball season on Saturday.

Preliminary ceremonies are scheduled to begin at 1:30 p.m. The first of two games will begin at 2 p.m.

The games will be played on the diamonds behind the Westland City Hall, located at 36601 Ford Rd.

2. The 4-wheel drive, 4-wheel steering, grass baglet needs cutting less often.
3. Ask for the vacuum action. A powerful suction that cleans your lawn as it mows.
4. Be certain the self-propelled mower has a gear shift drive for gear selection. And automatic free wheeling action for safer control.
5. Look for a tough, deep-tread transmission for extra power and easy handling.

Schoolcraft to host fitness-sports clinic

The 1976 President's Council on Physical Fitness and Sports Clinic for the Great Lakes region will be staged at Schoolcraft College on May 7 and 8.

Governor William G. Milliken has proclaimed May 1-8 as "Michigan Physical Fitness and Sports Week" in recognition of the event.

The clinic's director, Dr. Marvin Gans, said it is one of six being held in various parts of the nation this year under auspices of the President's Council. He is Schoolcraft's director of physical education and athletics.

Dr. Gans expects 250 physical education, sport, recreation and fitness professionals to attend from Michigan and throughout the midwest. In addition, over 400 persons from the College and local area will be involved in demonstrations and performances.

Central Michigan University is offering one hour of graduate credit for those attending the clinic. Persons interested may register the first day.

The clinic employs demonstrations, participation workshops, lectures, films and special-interest discussions to highlight sports and fitness program ideas. They are for elementary and secondary schools and, colleges, recreation agencies, employers, police and fire departments and youth organizations.

Scheduled for the Schoolcraft gymnasium, general sessions begin at 9 and 10:30 a.m. on Friday, and at 9 a.m. on Saturday. Workshop, demonstrations and lectures are set for the balance of both days continuing through to supper time.

Dr. Gans said the Gala at 8 p.m. Friday will hold special interest for the general public which is welcome, free of charge. While 2,000 sets are available in the gym, Dr. Gans advises that advance tickets be obtained through his office.

The Gala is a two-hour special presentation of performances by the nationally recognized fitness and sports figures who comprise the clinic's staff.

Performances will be given in rhythmic activities for housewives, self defense, dance, fitness for older adults, modern and folk dance, gymnastics and wheelchair basketball.

Clinicians include persons like Joan Sullivan, a recognized physical educator from Portland, Oregon;

Richard Kentwell, U.S. Olympic team field hockey coach from Boston University; Stan LeProtti, fitness expert and founder of the California LaSierra program, now at the University of South Carolina, and Neal Godby, coach of the national AAU gymnastic champions the last four years, from Toledo.

Dr. Joseph Arends, a preventive heart disease specialist from Troy, Michigan, will be speaker at the first general session. His topic is "The Essential Nature of Exercise."

The second general session involves special demonstrations by the clinicians listed, and by Tanya Everett, New York City professional dancer; Dr. Julian Stein, coordinator of programs for the handicapped with the American Association of Health, Physical Education and Recreation, Washington D.C., and Dr. Ash Hayes, director of federal-state relations with the President's Council.

The third general session, on Saturday morning, will be a panel presentation on "Your Stake in the National Program of Physical Fitness and Sports." It will be moderated by the President's Council Executive Director, C. Carson Conrad. The panelists are Dr. Richard Kellor of the President's Council, Ms. Sullivan and Dr. Hayes.

Dr. Gans said all activities for the two-day event have been carefully selected to insure quality presentations in areas of high interest. He mentioned the session on "vigorous activities for secondary school girls" by Ms. Sullivan. Also, "Dancethletics-fitness through dance," by Ms. Everett and the session on "physical fitness for emergency service personnel" by Dr. Kellor.

Senior adults aged 70 to 90 years old will participate in a session on "physical fitness for older people." They are from the UAW Retired Center, Detroit, and the presenter is Lloyd Morgan.

The clinic is being sponsored by the College, the Michigan Department of Education and the Michigan Association of Health, Physical Education and Recreation.

Schoolcraft College is located at 18600 Haggerty, Livonia. For registration and other information, contact Dr. Marvin Gans at (313) 591-6400.

MERIT!

'Enriched Flavor' process prompts unprecedented response to taste of new low tar MERIT.

Smokers are talking about a new kind of cigarette.

It's MERIT. The remarkable new low tar cigarette made with the 'Enriched Flavor' process.

MERIT has only 9 mg. tar. One of the lowest tar levels in smoking today. Yet, taste tests proved that MERIT delivers as much—or more—flavor than cigarettes having up to 60% more tar.

If you smoke, you'll be interested in what people like yourself are writing to us about MERIT.

"You can be proud of your new Merit cigarettes. They are the first and only low tar brand that doesn't taste like so much hot air."

—Burl Barer
Bellevue, Washington

"Merit is the best yet—it hit my taste buds perfectly!"

—Ernest Walters
Lutherville, Maryland

"Whoever finally came up with the cigarette is a genius. Thanks again, all your effort was worth it!!!!"

—Mrs. Christine Buczak
New York, New York

"Try a Merit and you'll want to share it."

—Mrs. Sue Theriot
Indianapolis, Indiana

"Thanks to all of you for discovering 'enriched flavor!'"

—Sheldon M. Weisman
Dallas, Texas

"As far as I'm concerned, Merit has them all beat for taste and flavor.... It puts all other low tar and nicotine cigarettes to shame."

—Nicholas J. Materia
Newark, New Jersey

"It's very seldom that a product really impresses me, but Merit filters are great."

—Skip Anderson
Millstadt, Illinois

"The eight friends I have introduced to MERIT have asked me to include their thanks for your new product."

—Paul J. Weiss
Long Island City, New York

"Merit should be called the T.T.T. Cigarette (True Tobacco Taste)."

—J. W. McLeod
Manning, South Carolina

"Low tar cigarettes were out of the question, had tried 'em, and, as far as I was concerned, they were a smoker's joke. And along came Merit."

—Ms. Christie Pavoni
Memphis, Tennessee

"Today a friend handed me a complimentary pack of Merit. I'm delighted!"

—Carolyn Perdue
North Miami Beach, Florida

"I've tried all the low tar and nicotine cigarettes without finding a winner, until now.... MERIT is definitely a winner."

—Mr. Raymond L. Rubin
Milwaukee, Wisconsin

"Finally, a good tasting cigarette low in tar and nicotine. And you feel like you're smoking something besides air."

—Susan Wilmington
Chicago, Illinois

"Finally someone has made a low tar and nicotine cigarette that is really good."

—Ms. Joan Connelly
Livonia, Michigan

"MERIT Menthols provide a very satisfying taste and I am sure I will be smoking this brand from now on."

—Mrs. Margaret Hargan
Memphis, Tennessee

"Three cheers for Merit! I don't know how you did it, but congratulations."

—Mrs. Samuel Garre III
Barrington, Illinois

"I've tried other low tar brands as they came on the market, but they all lacked something. Merit has that something the others lacked."

—G. E. Noble
Orlando, Florida

"Keep up the good work. A good slogan for MERIT might be 'do yourself a favor while lighting up enriched flavor'."

—Norris E. Rawhouser
Menomonie, Wisconsin

"Congratulations—they really do taste good. Great work!"

—Mr. Robert Baker
Kenilworth, New Jersey

"We want to thank the people at Philip Morris for a low tar and nicotine cigarette with fantastic flavor."

—Mrs. Jay C. Moyer
Whitehall, Pennsylvania

"The first day I bought a pack of MERIT cigarettes, I was so pleased, I started getting other guys to try them. As of today, five people that I gave a MERIT to have already switched."

—Gus T. Robertson
Reidsville, North Carolina

"I have tried dozens of low tar cigarettes and was never satisfied until I tried MERIT .... Thank you for making a cigarette that I can enjoy."

—John Alianello
Schiller Park, Illinois

"I tried your new cigarette the other day and I truly enjoyed them."

MERIT is the first low tar, low nicotine cigarette I have ever tried that has a real taste."

—Patricia R. Beadles
Las Vegas, Nevada

"... They gave just what I want in a smoke; good flavor, low tar and nicotine, slow to burn... you have won me over to Merit."

—John H. Ganley
Lynchburg, Virginia

"I bought a carton and really enjoyed the taste, I've switched and I'm happy I did."

—Frank Mayer
Crown Point, Indiana

"I read your ad, decided to try what I thought was just another gimmick, and was surprised. The taste is better than any low-tar cigarette I've ever smoked."

—Paul Burt
Stirling, New Jersey

"Your years of research with your new cigarette, Merit, have certainly been most successful .... It tastes like a cigarette."

—Mrs. Barbara Miller
Kensington, Connecticut

"Are you sure Merit is a low tar cigarette? It is the best I've ever smoked. It has all those good things other cigarettes promise."

—Mrs. Robin Kay Willoughby
Hollywood, California

"I think MERIT is a great-tasting cigarette."

—David Schneider
Eastchester, New York

"I've always changed from brand to brand until I found your new Merit, and I really love it."

—Latu Popi Mafieo
Honolulu, Hawaii

"Your twelve years of research has brought about the cigarette of today and tomorrow as far as I'm concerned."

—Agnes Reece
Houston, Texas

"I am not one for writing letters; however, I feel congratulations are in order for your new low-tar cigarettes. MERIT. They are the best!"

—Walter Drenckhahn
Long Island, New York

"... After smoking for 25 years and desperately looking for a low tar cigarette that tastes like a cigarette, EUREKA—MERIT!"

—Elaine Turiano
New Brunswick, New Jersey

—Mrs. Judith Pietras
Streamwood, Illinois

"I have switched from one low tar cigarette to another, but I have now switched for the last time. The flavor of MERIT is fantastic."

—J. Gordon Wisda
Phoenix, Arizona

"The name MERIT was perfectly warranted. A good thing is hard to find in this day and age, but you sure came up with a winner in my book."

—Mr. Kenneth R. Wilson
Akron, Ohio

"I would just like to say that I have smoked many kinds of cigarettes and I find it remarkable that MERIT, with such a low tar content, can possibly have so much flavor."

—Carol Jax
Jacksonville, Florida

"... I could have told you after the first pack that you have really come up with something."

—Donel Green
Wichita Falls, Texas

"For years I was convinced you couldn't have low tar and taste. Thanks for proving me wrong."

—F. W. Hammerschmidt
Amityville, Long Island, New York

"Have tried a lot of other low tar cigarettes but they were dull. Merit is the best I've ever tasted. It's got flavor that lasts, too."

—Ted Pinski
Toledo, Ohio

"It's MERIT from now on."

—Mrs. F. J. Branson
Berkeley, Missouri
